'Shooting Order' Talk Stirs Washington

SENATE AGAIN WEIGHS NEED OF INVESTIGATION

Capital Studies Knox Assertion Navy Has Orders to Take 'All Necessary Steps.'

WILLKIE PLAN HEARD

Advocates Bases In Scotland, Northern Ireland After Chat With FDR.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— The senate naval affairs committee today voted to call Secretary of Navy Frank Knox and Chief of Naval Operations Harold R. Stark in executive session to discuss reports that American naval patrol boats have shot at German submarines in the Atlantic.

BULLETIN

BERLIN —(U.P.)— An authorized source charged today that the United States and Great Britain "together are evendently building up an aggressive and offensive tactical position" on Iceland.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — The top question in the capital today was whether the Atlantic fleet got shooting orders when the United States began its protective occupation of Iceland.

It revived the recurrent earlier question whether shooting already had occurred, and the senate naval committee met to decide whether sufficient grounds existed for an investigation of previously denied reports of clashes between U. S. naval patrols and Nazi sea raiders.

The discussion also included Wendell L. Willkie's advocacy of American bases in Scotland and northern Ireland, and the disagreement in Capitol Hill over the propriety of Senator Wheeler (D., Mont.) in forecasting the occupation of Iceland in advance—an action criticized by Britain's Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

The opinion of many legislators was that Secretary of Navy Knox had plainly implied that the Atlantic fleet had orders to open fire if necessary to deal with hostile activity along the United States communication lines at sea,

97 Per Cent of Mansfielders Favor Passage of City Ordinance to Curb Blowing of Auto Horns, Poll Shows

NINETY-SEVEN per cent of Mansfielders are in favor of a city ordinance prohibiting the blowing of automobile horns except in cases of emergency, a poll taken by News-Journal reporters indicated today.

A total of 60 persons were interviewed and of them 58 were in favor of passage of an ordinance by city council providing a fine for unnecessary horn-blowing. Only two were opposed to such a proposal.

However, proponents and opponents as well, all agreed that blasting of horns to get through a traffic tieup was "ridiculous"; many of them believe they can drive 500 miles without having cause for tooting a horn; and nearly all of them expressed annoyance at having to listen to the blasts.

The poll was taken in line with a current drive to put a curb on needless horn-blowing in Mansfield. Frank Beverstock, secretary of the Richland County Auto club, last Saturday suggested that motorists take a holiday from horn-blowing by driving 500 miles without using their horns except in emergency.

His suggestion was followed by a statement from Councilman George C. Kyle that he would introduce an ordinance for passage by city council, calling for a fine in cases of

Assert 12,000 Killed; Nazis Claim Progress

BULLETIN

LONDON—(INS)—Soviet parachute troops have been dropped on the outskirts of Helsinki in Finland, a broadcast by the home radio, picked up by Reuters agency, said today.

(By Associated Press)

Europe's military titans fought with rising violence today as the Russians reported the annihilation of a German motorized division—12,000 to 14,000 men—claimed victories elsewhere on the vital 300-mile front guarding Moscow and Leningrad.

The Germans, silent on any specific gains, declared the world's two largest armies were now fighting a decisive battle, and a Berlin newspaper asserted:

"Not until now have the great masses of the armies come into deployment."

Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's field headquarters, issuing its third terse communique in succession on the 19-day-old war with Russia, declared:

"Operations in the east are progressing relentlessly."

The Nazi high command also confirmed the capture of Salla, fortified Russian town on the Finnish border, after a Red army division was said to have been "crushed" in several days of fighting.

Meanwhile, the Middle East conflict flamed into action again amid a jumble of confusion. A French spokesman in Vichy declared the British had not replied to France's request for an armistice in the month-old battle of Syria, except with increased military assaults and attacks on the military honor of General Henri Dentz, the French high commissioner of Syria and Lebanon.

British general headquarters in Cairo reported new gains in Syria but made no mention of armistice negotiations or a demand for the surrender of Beirut, the Lebanese capital.

The British announced the capture of "many hundreds of Vichy troops," 17 guns, three tanks and five armored cars in seizing the French stronghold at Damour, nine miles south of Beirut.

Reuters (British) news agency said British troops had renewed hostilities when the French failed to meet a 5:30 a. m. deadline for the evacuation of Beirut pending discussion of armistice terms.

Overnight, the war in the air raged over a vast area from England to Egypt. Hitler's high command said strong Nazi bomber formations attacked the Suez canal, while Premier Mussolini's high command reported a renewal of RAF assaults on Italian cities after a lapse of many weeks.

British bombers were said to have carried out a low-level day-

Tossed 70 Feet In Crash, Survive

Car Which Ploughed 219 Feet From Road

Two Richland county youths were thrown more than 65 feet from the above automobile early today after it had plunged 219 feet through a corn field after leaving U. S. Route 42, a half mile north of Johnsville. The youths, together with another who was also thrown out of the car but escaped with minor injuries, are in General hospital. The automobile left the highway after failing to make a curve, according to state highway patrolmen. In the hospital are Claude Patterson, 21, of 160 West Third street and Everett Bemiller, 26, Lexington, R. D. 2, both critically injured and Kenneth Prosser, 23, Lexington, R. D. 2, who received only severe lacerations and bruises.

THREE RICHLAND YOUTHS 'LUCKY THEY'RE ALIVE'

Auto Plunges 219 Feet Off U. S. Route 42; Occupants Thrown Into Air.

Three Richland county youths were injured, two of them critically, early today when their automobile plunged into a corn field and overturned in a spin 219 feet from the highway on U. S. Route 42, a half mile north of Johnsville.

One of the youths was tossed 74 feet ahead of the car, another was hurled 66 feet, and the third occupant landed in front of the machine. The front seat was found 50 feet away from the machine.

Described by highway patrolmen as being "lucky all were not killed," the youths, all in General hospital, are:

Claude Patterson, 21, of 160 West Third street, driver, still unconscious with possible skull fracture and internal injuries.

Everett Bemiller, 26, Lexington, R. D. 2, still unconscious with possible skull fracture and internal injuries.

Kenneth Prosser, 23, Lexington, R. D. 2, owner of the car, severe scalp lacerations and multiple bruises.

Patterson and Bemiller were described by hospital attendants as being in "critical" conditions while Prosser's condition was reported as "fair."

State highway patrolmen said that accident was due to "extremely high speed." The auto left the highway after the driver was unable to make a curve, according to the patrolmen.

Patterson and Bemiller were thrown far into the corn field when the auto went into a spin

SENTIMENT IN CONGRESS HITS MARSHALL PLAN

Leaders Report Strong Feeling Against Sending Trainees Outside Hemisphere.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — The selective service ban against use of trainees outside the western hemisphere appeared likely today to remain unchanged for the present, despite the recommendation of the army general staff.

Authoritative reports were that congressional leaders have advised President Roosevelt that they cannot win approval at this time for the necessary legislation.

Well-advised informants said that Mr. Roosevelt was inclined to agree with the recommendation of General George C. Marshall, the chief of staff, that both trainees and national guardsmen be made legally available for duty outside of the hemisphere, should the need arise.

The president nevertheless decided against seeking action for the present in view of the adverse congressional outlook. He was represented, however, as interested in several plans which would permit a certain number of trainees to be inducted into the regular army for a longer period than the present one-year term.

Any action on these plans, however, appeared unlikely before July 17—the date which selective service headquarters fixed yesterday for the lottery here that will determine the order in which the 750,000 young men who registered July 1 will be subject to call for training.

PLANTS CLOSED

Four Chrysler Factories Hit By Upholstery Strike.

(By Associated Press)

A shutdown of four Chrysler automobile plants at Detroit was attributed today to a strike at an automobile upholstery factory in the same city.

Approximately 18,500 Chrysler workers were made idle by the walkout of CIO workers at the plant of National Automotive Fibers, Inc. Behind the strike was the union's demand for increased wages upon expiration of the present labor contract Aug. 1.

The present wage scale was not disclosed, nor was the current rate at the Wickes Boiler company plant at Saginaw, Mich., where members of the steel workers organizing committee struck, making undisclosed wage demands.

NEW WHEAT ON MARKETS HERE

First of Richland's 1941 Crop Brings $1.01 a Bushel; Fear Storage Problem.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Senator Taft (R) Ohio introduced a bill in the senate today to reduce from 49 cents to 15 cents per bushel the penalty for non-cooperation under the wheat marketing quota law.

Richland county's new wheat crop was beginning to pour into elevators today and the prospects were so good that grain dealers feared a shortage of storage space.

No. 1 wheat was selling for $1.01 a bushel in Mansfield today, giving farmers about 20 cents more than they received for their new crop last year. No. 2 grain brought $1 today.

Most of the wheat sold so far in Mansfield has come from the

LEAPS FROM BRIDGE

TOLEDO —(AP)— Mrs. Esther Heising, 34, died last night following a 45-foot leap into the Maumee river from the Fassett street bridge. Coroner Frank G. Kreft gave a tentative verdict of suicide because of despondency over the death of her father.

YOUTH SHOT

City Reports Second "Empty Gun" Death In Six Weeks.

STEUBENVILLE —(INS)—Steubenville's second "empty gun death" within six weeks was recorded today with the accidental shooting of 15-year-old George Andrews.

The youth was shot through the chest when a gun in the hands of Pee Cizes, 17, accidentally discharged. The latter youth told officers he thought the gun was empty.

RENEWS CLAMP

Italy Tightens Restrictions on U. S. Assets.

ROME —(U.P.)— Italy tightened up its retaliatory freezing restrictions on United States assets today after having relaxed them earlier in the week to permit Americans to draw enough money for living expenses.

A decree, published today in the Official Gazette, ordered the restrictions intensified.

The freezing regulations had been relaxed last Monday to permit Americans to draw approximately $250 a month from the American Express company for living expenses. With special permission, they could draw another $250 from the Bank of Italy.

WORKER HELD

Ravenna Arsenal Employe Admits Stabbing Akron Man.

AKRON — (U.P.) — A 38-year-old worker from the Ravenna arsenal was held by police today in connection with the fatal stabbing of George Brown, 47, of Akron.

Police said the worker admitted stabbing Brown during a fight.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON — (AP) —Authoritative sources said today President Roosevelt will ask congress for $4,700,000,000 of new army appropriations at once as the first installment of a new $15,000,000,000 defense and lend-lease program.

10 U. S. NURSES REPORTED SAFE

8 Others Still Missing From Second Contingent on Way to Britain.

(By United Press)

LONDON — Dr. John Gordon, director of the American Red Cross-Harvard field hospital, announced today that 10 American nurses have been landed safely in Iceland from a ship which was torpedoed two weeks ago. He said eight other nurses still are unaccounted for.

The nurses, part of a second contingent en route to Britain from the United States, landed safely in Iceland after the ship on which they were sailing was sunk by a German submarine, Gordon said.

Gordon did not have the names of the nurses landed in Iceland.

Gordon explained that two groups of American nurses, totaling 27 in all, had been en route to Britain. Both ships on which the nurses were traveling were torpedoed.

Nine nurses landed in Britain July 4. Ten more now have landed in Iceland, eight, therefore, still are missing.

CLING TO HOPE

WASHINGTON — (AP) — National headquarters of the American Red Cross, refusing to give up hope for seven nurses and one Red Cross worker feared lost at sea, waited anxiously today for further information from the navy or the state department.

Frankensteen Says He'll File Action In Plane Strike.

CINCINNATI —(INS)— Richard T. Frankensteen, aircraft organization director for the CIO and a member of the executive board, said today he would file charges of conduct unbecoming an officer of the organization against his fellow board member, Lew H. Michener, as a result of the recent "wildcat" strike at the North American Aviation company plant at Inglewood, Calif.

REPLY LACKING ON ARMISTICE

BULLETIN

BERLIN —(INS)— France has rejected Britain's terms for an armistice in Syria, according to information in German official quarters today. The Vichy government called Britain's conditions "incompatible with the situation."

(By Associated Press)

LONDON — Reuters (British news agency) reported that French authorities had made no reply up to noon today to a British request that Beirut be evacuated and declared an open city pending discussion of armistice terms to end the month-old war in Syria.

As a result, it was reported, hostilities by British troops closing in on the Lebanese capital were continuing.

The request, Reuters reported in a dispatch from Jerusalem, was radioed last night to General Henri Dentz, the French commander, after the latter had signified he was ready to discuss armistice terms.

Sir Henry Maitland Wilson, British commander in Syria, was quoted as saying that Dentz must take responsibility for the conse-

Glenn Rohleder, recently appointed principal of Senior high school, was seriously ill today in General hospital where he was to undergo a major operation this afternoon.

Rohleder's physician said he was suffering from an intestinal hemorrhage and has received two blood transfusions since he entered the hospital yesterday. His condition was described as "rather serious."

Rohleder, who lives at 383 Ruth avenue, formerly was principal of Johnny Appleseed junior high school and is one of the city's veteran school men. He was named to succeed Jesse Beer as principal of Senior high school when Beer retired as head of the school in May.

RATES CUT

Long Distance Phone Charge Cut 14 Per Cent Today.

(By Associated Press)

A 14 per cent reduction in the nation's long-distance telephone rates went into effect today. The rate reduction, negotiated after the Federal Communications Commission had ordered an investigation of long-distance tolls, estimated at $14,000,000 annually.

Reductions brought several slashes within Ohio. The Cleveland-Cincinnati toll was cut from $1.05 to 95 cents, with corresponding declines for other points.

Reductions generally apply to distance between 144 and 1530 miles. Report charges on incompleted calls are eliminated, and overtime rates for person-to-person calls are reduced to the overtime rates for station-to-station calls.

JUMP TRACK

27 New York Central Cars Pile Up 50 Feet High.

BUCKEYE LAKE — (INS) — Twenty-seven cars of a New York Central freight train jumped the track at nearby Lakeside today, blocking the Thurston-Bucyrus right-of-way and cutting off access to about 25 summer cottages.

A split rail was believed responsible. The train crew escaped injury. Witnesses estimated that the coal and box cars jammed in a pile nearly 50 feet high.

Ohio Dairy Cows Go 'All Out' In Aid for Britain

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— Ohio dairy cows have gone "all out" for Great Britain.

Buckeye cows are personally accounting for almost 400,000 extra quarts of milk a month for shipment across the Atlantic.

Dairy experts at Ohio State university revealed today that the Ohio production of evaporated milk has increased 10 per cent over last year and that large quantities of it were being shipped to Britain to replace the dairy supplies cut off by Hitler's invasion of Denmark and Holland.

Ohio is second only to Wisconsin as one of the biggest milk producing states in the nation. Ohio produces about one-tenth of all the milk that goes into cans.

Route 30-N Detour In City Brings Residents' Protests

The detour of traffic over West Park drive during the construction of two grade eliminations on Route 30-N met growing opposition today as numerous homeowners filed complaints with city officials.

The residents complained of the excessive noise and inconvenience caused by the detour. One of the most frequent complaints was that of the maintenance of two-way traffic on so narrow a street.

Service-Safety Director C. M. Crafton announced that several complaints had been received but that he had expected them regardless of which street was used for the detour. The state highway department had suggested using Western and Ausdale avenues for re-routing traffic, maintaining only one-way traffic on each.

Plans for the installation of a new traffic light at Park avenue west and West Park drive are being made, according to Crafton.

The director said that Western and Ausdale avenues would provide no better detour than West Park drive. He pointed out that few homes were located on that street and that the residents had no more noise or inconvenience to contend with than residents of Fourth street or Park avenue.

Benefits to Fourth street merchants was also advanced by Crafton as a reason for the detour. The director said that the merchants suffered greatly during the repaving project last year.

Richland Judge, Angered By 'Child' Marriage, Maps Action

Aroused by the story of a 16-year-old Mansfield wife who related in juvenile court yesterday how she and a 19-year-old Shelby youth were married last Saturday in Defiance without parental consent, Probate Judge Stuart H. Cramer said today he would take steps to stop the steady flow of Richland county minors to two northwest Ohio counties to be married.

The young wife was brought into court on a delinquency charge filed by her mother who said the girl disappeared last week without telling her parents where she was going.

The girl told Judge Cramer that she was married by a justice of peace in Defiance county where a marriage license was issued to the couple although the girl said she told the probate clerk she was a resident of Mansfield.

Judge Cramer said he interpreted the Ohio law as meaning that marriage licenses must be issued in the county of the girl's residence and not to minors unless they have their parents' consent.

He said there apparently was nothing now to be done in the case of the young wife who was brought into his court since the couple had their marriage license to prove they were married.

"I intend to get the attorney general's ruling on the residence law and then present my argument at the next meeting of Ohio probate judges," he said.

AIR FUEL TANK HAND TAILORED

California Man Invents Self-Sealing Gasoline Tank For Warplanes.

SAN DIEGO, Cal.,—(U.P.)—Hand-tailored, leather-covered gas tanks for military airplanes, which will literally swallow 30 and 50-caliber machine gun slugs without leaking so much as a drop of fuel, and out of the experimental stage and ready for mass production, it has been learned here.

Vital fuel tanks, vulnerable to gunfire, long have been the "Achilles heel" of wartime aircraft. A well-placed stream of machine gun bullets could blast the conventional metal fuel tank wide open and the constant loss of fuel would make the plane useless for further combat.

In many cases during the first World war, planes were forced to land in hostile territory because of this loss of fuel.

Percy H. Heron, inventor of the self-sealing tank, and president of the Heron Manufacturing Co., of San Diego, declares that his tank will give a war plane 100 per cent immunity from this fate.

The leak-proof fuel tank, a brainchild of the present war in Europe, is not Heron's exclusive idea. Several rubber concerns are turning out tanks of their own design for use on military aircraft. Heron, however, believes his tank will prove more effective under fire than any other now being produced.

The Heron tank is constructed of a top covering of steerhide, over alternate layers of soft sponge rubber and strips of a secretly-processed lastex which chemically reacts to gasoline when punctured and "flows" over the hole, sealing it.

It was said that models of the tank withstood the withering fire of 30 and 50-caliber machine guns unusually well in government tests.

"The nature of the tank's construction makes it a hand-tailored job," Heron said. "Eighty per cent of our meployes will be women."

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Mansfield News-Journal

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, THURSDAY, JULY 10, 1941.

Tax-paying time is here again—or hadn't you noticed an interval between?

Now is the time that all good Communists in this country should hurry to the aid of their comrades in Russia.

It may be no more than a coincidence—but it sometimes seems motorists most likely to cause accidents are the ones who don't carry insurance.

Awaken Before It Is Too Late!

WALTER LIPPMANN, news commentator, who is generally satisfied with calm discussion of current topics, now strikes a more serious note. And probably with good reason. He wants our government and public to wake up, and live up to the president's recent proclamation of an "unlimited emergency," instead of lapsing into a pleasant dream as Hitler's iron hordes drive east and south.

"We face," he says in the New York Herald-Tribune, "the most formidable enemy we have ever faced, in the most critical period of modern history, with our eyes half closed and with much less than half our energy enlisted for the ordeal. Between the people who tell us that all will be well if we do nothing, and the people who promise that all will be well if we do a little, though we need not inconvenience ourselves too much, we are drifting—as all the other nations have drifted—toward a situation of such imminent and overwhelming peril that even the sleepiest and the laziest and the most complacently foolish will no longer be able to sleep and dream."

This is a statement of truth that should be recognized as such by every American—and by every alien who is privileged to enjoy the benefits of living in this country.

Our aid-to-Britain, and our help to Russia, China, or any other country fighing against Hitlerism, is primarily a fight for the preservation of our own freedom, and the right to govern ourselves as we choose.

Whatever strength we can add to Britain's battle, to Russia's defense or to China's resistance will stave off—and possibly remove—the danger of eventually facing the enemy alone, instead of merely supplementing the strong force already being thrown against the totalitarian powers.

America has the potential strength to turn the tide in favor of the combined forces now fighting against the Axis group. All that is needed is unity of action.

More Traffic Signal Lights

ANNOUNCEMENT that Mansfield is to have three additional traffic signal lights installed at residential street intersections indicates administration acceptance of an idea that stop-and-go lights must be depended upon in Mansfield to secure the safety which many other cities have attained by observance of "Stop" signs as similar intersections.

The habit of ignoring stop signs has become so prevalent in this city that it may be doubted if anything much can be done about it—in the absence of enforcement—but in cities where enforcement is in vogue it is not unusual to find a stop required from all approaches to a dangerous intersection, with the courtesy of allowing the motorist who has stopped first to continue through, or make a turn.

The number, and unique distribution of traffic signal lights in Mansfield already attracts notice and comment from visitors accustomed to driving in other cities of Mansfield's size, where fewer such signals seem to meet all safety requirements, and the wonder now is if the ultimate goal is to go to the installation and upkeep expense of placing a stop-and-go light at every intersection.

Dangerous Pan-American Dispute

WHATEVER pan-American machinery exists to help Peru and Ecuador stop the war that has broken out between them over a boundary dispute should be set in motion quickly. It would be tragic for them to have a prolonged war like the one Bolivia and Paraguay waged so disastrously over a similar dispute.

Furthermore, it would be dangerous for the whole Western Hemisphere. It is impossible to say at this point, without more detailed information, whether there is any outside influence—notably German or Italian—involved. But it can be said with assurance that Hitler would be pleased with any local wars that could act to disturb pan-American co-operation and divert attention from the work of his own troublemakers.

Planes Also Carry Food

AMERICANS learn with satisfaction that the long-range bombing planes now being ferried to England do not travel empty. More than a ton of food concentrates— mostly powdered milk and eggs—forms a part of every cargo crossing the Atlantic.

A ton of powdered eggs is equivalent in food value to 84,600 fresh eggs, and a ton of dried milk is equal to 7,144 quarts.

Some dried vegetables and "emergency wafers" are also sent. With a cerael base, salted and slightly sweetened, these wafers carry much nourishment in small compass. Boiled for 20 minutes in milk or water, a single wafer makes a bowlful of cereal. Frozen fish and sizable shipments of pectin are other items of such cargoes.

Most Americans look forward to the day when the Nazi grip on the people of Europe will be broken and thrown off. Then, they know, there will be similar cargoes of concentrated nourishment and other aid going to the people of many nations.

Streamlined and Patriotic Circus

THE "greatest show on earth," which still means the circus, is more patriotically American than ever this year, in one way, but in another it remains international.

Its patriotism is found in the red, white and blue sawdust that covers the floor, its flags, and so on. Its international character is found in the nationality of performers, 100 of whom represent 15 different countries. The animals themselves may represent as many more.

The circus these days shows the influence of the general streamlining and modernistic decoration which have developed in all fields in recent years.

After considering the matter for years, Jack Warwick, Toledo Blade paragrapher, concludes: "There is no such thing as a half-bad egg."

PUTTING HIS "ARCTICS" TO USE

Listen World!

Go to Hell After It!

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

I'M THINKING with chuckles, as well as a homesick gulp, of that sturdy little mother of mine. She of the Scotch-English-Irish blood who came across the waters to be a California pioneer. The fine spunk of her . . . and the dauntless hunger for beauty.

And well she needed them both. For life was not kind on that Far West frontier which we glamorize so spectacularly in the movies today. Benicia, a loop up the bay from the Golden Gate, was a desolate sprawl of sunbaked hill and marsh before those pioneer wives took hold of it. Which brings me back to the black, adobe dirt . . . and Old Pat, and the small bunch of dynamite who was Elizabeth Robinson, my mother.

Now 'dobe dirt is no genteel wood loam. It grows such flowers and vegetables as never were seen on sea or land, but it takes a lot of persuading first. For 'dobe is tough and sticky . . . it dries harder than hard pan . . . and it swallows fertilizer like quick-sand. All of which is no picnic to the one who's digging it. Who, in this case, happened to be Old Pat.

Old Pat was the village handy man—red-haired, freckled as a turkey egg, upwards of six feet, and as Irish as they come. His one main interest in life was certainly not flower gardens. My mother topped five feet by an inch or two, with every inch carrying 150 watts. Through many a year she and Pat had labored over her prodigious roses. Pat's loathing for roses was only equaled by his devotion to the little Tartar who drove him to his task. But at last even he rebelled.

I can see him yet, leaning on his spade with the sweat furrowing his red, wrinkled throat, and the rage of the Irish rising against this foolish, woman job.

"'Tis naw use, puttin' the good manure on this 'dobe, Mrs. Robinson," he drawled in his brogue, thick as a Christmas cake. "It gaws straight down t' hell."

"Then go to hell after it," snapped Elizabeth Robinson who never, in her rigid code, had been known to say even "darn." And Pat went.

I'M THINKING often of that reply these days, as I read the peeves and laments which clutter my desk. Once again, we're all pioneering, trying to build order, beauty and security in a new way of life which is tougher than that black 'dobe with which Old Pat and my determined little mother labored. A new way of living which seems to absorb our tears and prayers and rebellions as mockingly as that old adobe absorbed the sweat and fertilizer.

And, facing that mocking futility, we are tempted to give up. Why not? What's the use of trying to make life blossom in the face of such difficulties? What's the use when everything you give of courage and honor, dignity and determination, seems lost in this mad hell of disorganization?

What's the use? Over the years the answer comes. I see my little mother battling with untamed earth . . . watching her precious work seemingly wasted . . . crying, valiantly, in its rescue.

"GO TO HELL AFTER IT!"

And it comes to me suddenly, gloriously, that all that we have of wisdom and beauty has been won because someone "went to hell after it." For each step in our evolution, someone paid in doubt and weariness, loneliness and drudgery.

Great living has never been easy . . . progress has never been cheap. Always there have been wars, riots, raids upon the soul. Always the makings of life have been tough as that black adobe from which my mother raised her fabulous flowers. Yet she raised those flowers because she was willing to "go to hell after them."

THAT'S HOW AMERICA WAS BUILT. THAT'S HOW AMERICA CAN BE SAVED TODAY.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Sunday, July 10, 1921.

Miss Anna M. Sattler went to New York for special course in domestic science at Columbia university.

Mrs. W. B. Runyan and children of Dayton came to Mansfield to spend the summer.

Birth report: Son was born to Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Cook, Raemelton farm.

Harry H. Hunt, employe in county surveyor's office, was called to Philadelphia by death of his father.

More than two hundred went from here on the B. & O. excursion to Sandusky.

Ira O'Hearn of near Butler was surprised by friends on his birthday anniversary.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Friday, July 10, 1936.

Corrine Abrams and Kathryn Bushnell left for the Y. W. C. A. camp at Wildwood near Columbus for a 10-day outing.

Miss Martha Laser and Jack W. Bayer were married at St. Luke's Lutheran church.

Commissioners B. E. Kuhn, C. L. Mitchell and L. P. Kochheiser and County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe were attending a meeting at the Medina Country club.

John Ramsey, jr., 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ramsey, Bowman street, was bitten by a dog.

TODAY IN HISTORY

On the announcement of the signing of the Declaration of Independence at Philadelphia on July 4, 1776, a mob in New York destroyed the statue of King George III, signifying the end of British rule in the States.

Boys and Cops as Pals.

Ten years ago the incorporated village of Tuckahoe, in Westchester county, had about sixty juvenile delinquency cases annually. In the last three years it has had none. That is a result worth recording, and so is the story that lies behind it.

In 1930 the mothers of six delinquent boys pleaded with Patrolman Milton Gibbons of Tuckahoe to save them from reform school after they had been charged with pilfering from a vending machine. Promising a Children's Court judge that the boys would avoid further mischief, Patrolman Gibbons obtained custody of them and made them the charter members of the Tuckahoe Police Associates Boys club. He established headquarters for the club in the basement of his home. The membership now embraces 318 boys and girls and claims more than 200 "graduates." Not one member has been involved in an infraction of the law since the pilfering episode.

Proposals to establish the movement on a national basis as the Police Associates of America are under discussion. Patrolman Gibbons' theory that policemen like children and that children can be induced to regard policemen as their friends and counselors has proved its worth.—New York Times.

This Is Ohio

Many historic points of interest in Ohio owe their permanent record to Benson J. Lossing, historian, wood-engraver and traveler.

In 1848, Lossing conceived the idea of writing a narrative sketch-book treating the scenes and objects associated with the War of 1812. The volume ultimately took the form of the pictorial field book of the War of 1812.

In gathering material for this work, the author traveled over Ohio visiting every section connected with the events of that conflict, which included more than 150 definite sites.

It was an original idea well executed, and the antiquarian of today turns to this book for details which can not now be found elsewhere.

How It Started

—By JEAN NEWTON

"What Hath God Wrought!"

It is with Samuel Finley Morse, inventor of the electro-magnetic telegraph, that this epochal phrase is associated—and perhaps always will be.

For it, however, Morse was indebted to the Bible!

On May 24, 1844, Morse stood poised to deliver the first message to pass over the experimental line between Washington and Baltimore.

Buffeted about for years, his rights derided and denied in his own country and abroad, his great moment was at last at hand.

What to say!

Overcome by emotion, he modestly murmured the passage from Numbers 23:23.

Everyday Poem

—By GEORGE ELLISTON

Like Scent of Roses.

Like scent of roses they came back,
The days of long ago,
When you and I were young, so young,
Had yet the world to know..

Like scent of roses wafted through
The long gone years, so sweet,
So dear are these old memories
Today a rare retreat

From crowding cares and weariness,
A happy interlude.
And I am rested by the dreams
Long gone as they intrude.

As Others See It

Today's Thought.

Winning freedom is more than passing a resolution and adjourning sine die. The Founding Fathers pledged their lives and went through to the end. — Toledo Blade.

Eye Willkie as Governor of N. Y., Fusion Candidacy Seems Possible

—By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—The 1942 political rumba is still a long way off, but the politicos already have begun to cast their eyes over possible candidates. One of their chief topics of discussion is the governorship of New York.

Herbert Lehman, thrice governor of the Empire state, is certain not to run again. This creates a wide-open situation for a prize considered a stepping stone to the 1944 presidential contest. Remember that Franklin Roosevelt went from the executive mansion in Albany to the White House in 1932.

A number of hopefuls are known to be ready to try their luck, chief among them Republican Tom Dewey and Democratic Lieutenant Governor Charles Poletti. Dewey came near beating Lehman in 1938 and his yen for the presidency is undiminished. As governor of New York, he would have the inside track for another shot at this ambition. Poletti is a political protege of Lehman and was selected as running-mate on his insistence.

But the most interesting possibility being mentioned in inner political circles is Wendell Willkie.

Particularly significant is that this talk is coming from Democrats as well as Republicans. These Democrats are not the party bolters who supported Willkie against Roosevelt last year. They are men who fought Willkie bitterly then, but now feel differently because of his outspoken stand against isolationism and appeasement.

Convinced that this issue will dominate the 1942 elections, these Democrats already are discussing the possibility of starting a boom for Willkie as fusion candidate for governor.

Note—Willkie has not been approached on the idea, has given no intimation even to close friends that he is interested. But the idea is in the air, and, as proved in 1940, anything can happen in politics.

Germany vs. Russia.

ONE of the key factors in gauging the Russo-German war is that the Germans are marvels at transportation; the Russians are not.

As long as the Red army can force the Nazis to fight a digging-in, slow type of warfare, Hitler's forces are up against it. But whenever Nazi mechanized columns are out ahead, dodging through Russian wheat fields, then even if they sometimes get cut off from their own forces, the advantage is very much with Germany.

So far, the Nazis have employed exactly the same tactics they used so successfully in France, cutting through enemy lines with one mechanized spearhead, then widening that spearhead with infantry.

This use of infantry is one tactic of the German army which most people have not realized. For although the shock attacks have been accomplished by tanks and heavily armored troops, Germany's great military genius has been the ability to bring up horse-drawn infantry immediately and widen the gap made by the panzers.

In the campaign against France, U. S. military experts estimated that the Germans used about 700,000 horses to bring up infantry, field kitchens, hospitals, food, guns, ammunition and all the other vast paraphernalia of war.

Learned From Circus.

INABILITY to organize transportation is one of the Russian army's greatest defects — especially so while transport trains, airports, railroad trains and switch yards are being bombed ceaselessly from the air. Also the Russians have no genius whatsoever for repair. Trucks and tanks will get out of kelter and the Russians simply abandon them on the roadside. The Nazis, in contrast, will be on hand with traveling garages and repair the stalled equipment immediately.

So this war, spread over very long distances, may be won by the army which has the best organized transportation.

Note—The Nazis learned the art of quick transportation by coming to the United States and studying the American circus — probably the greatest development of the technique of quick unloading, hauling and repairing.

Merry-Go-Round.

THE WHITE HOUSE is the oldest federal building in Washington. Designed by James Hoban, an Irishman living in Charleston, S. C., the mansion was completed in 1800 and the first president to occupy it was John Adams. . . . It was originally called the "President's Palace" by L'Enfant, French engineer who laid out the capital. . . . President Theodore Roosevelt was the first to designate it officially as the White House, in an executive order issued October 21, 1901. . . . Assistant Secretary of Commerce Robert Hinckley was responsible for the dispatch of the group of crack airplane mechanics to Britain to familiarize the RAF with the repair and maintenance of U. S.-made planes. During his visit to Britain, Hinckley was struck by the need for such a crew and within a week after his return, arranged to send one. . . . State employment officials who bulk at co-operating with federal authorities in procuring defense workers are headed for a surprise. With funds provided for this purpose by congress, the U. S. employment service is preparing to disregard the obstructive state officials and set up separate employment offices.

U. S. Fatigue Pills.

THOSE mysterious anti-fatigue pills fed German soldiers before going into battle are nothing new to the U. S. army. In fact, U. S. nutrition experts have gone the Germans one better.

The Nazi pill is simply a tablet made of a mixture of corn sugar and citric acid. The acid causes a flow of saliva which in turn promotes quick digestion of the corn sugar, giving the soldier a "lift" within a few minutes after the pill is swallowed.

U. S. army experts have developed a much improved version, known as Type D. super-emergency ration. It consists of a concentrated chocolate bar fortified with vitamin B. The bar weighs one ounce, can be carried in the soldier's pocket and will withstand heat up to 120 degrees. It is enclosed in a special wrapper which will resist eight hours of mustard gas attack. One bar is the energy equivalent of a full meal.

The army also has developed a special ration for pilots, consisting of a cracker containing whole wheat, soybean meal, ground beef muscle, whole milk, hydrogenated fat, vitamins and minerals. This cracker will withstand tropical heat without spoiling.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—The headlights of a long black car cut smoothly through the Storm King highway. It was getting pretty late. Not too late to get there, but much too late to idle along at 30 miles an hour.

So the foot went down on the accelerator and the needle in the dial began to climb . . . It climbed pretty high. Not too high, but pretty high anyway.

Then a beam of light from the rear cut through the night and there was a splutter and a roar as the cop came up. He said, "Over here on the side of the road." . . . He climbed off his motorcycle, stood it on its stand, dusted off his gloves. . . .

"What's your name?" he wanted to know.

Jane Frohman, who was at the wheel, told him. She told him who she was, and where she was going. She was going to the Paramount, in New York . . . She's on the stage there. It's her ninth engagement there in seven years. When a new show is organized for the Paramount, it breaks in at Newburgh. . . . She was coming down from Newburgh, hurrying to get to New York.

"But," asked Jane, "was I speeding?"

"Who said anything about speeding?" demanded the cop, who then confessed that he enjoyed nothing so much as listening to Miss Frohman warble songs.

"You say you're late?" he wanted to know.

"I'm afraid I will be," said Miss Frohman.

"Come on," called the cop—and for 47 miles Miss Jane Frohman had a police escort into New York. Perhaps it was this that explains her wind-blown appearance as she hurried through the Paramount stage door—just in time.

GOURMET note: This happened about 8 p. m. I was in the Revere Room of the Hotel Lexington, talking to Ernest, the head waiter, when two fine, strapping okies came in. . . . They looked like okies. . . . They certainly didn't know where they were.

"Where's the kitchen?" the first one demanded. "We aim to eat."

"Sure," explained the other, "we crave victuals."

"Well," said Ernest, who has had his share of experience in handling eccentric guests who come in out of the night, "the cooks wouldn't like it if you were back there. But you can sit here. I'll bring anything you want."

So down they sat. They ordered two steaks—T-bone steaks. . . . When the order came they ignored the knives and forks. . . . I thought surely this must be a publicity stunt, but it wasn't. Perhaps this doesn't seem extraordinary, but how long has it been since you have seen a man eat a steak with his fingers. What it took to rip meat off the bone, they had. They cleaned the platters.

Then they got up, paid the bill, and walked out, leaving no tip for poor Ernest. They're still talking about those steak-eaters in the Revere room.

Words of Wisdom.

One-Minute Test Answer.

1. Henry W. Longfellow.
2. Senator Atchison was president for a day because Zachary Taylor who was to be inaugurated did not arrive in Washington in time to take the oath of office privately on Sunday, March 4, 1849, but was inaugurated on Monday, the 5th.

A Farmer's Diary

Family Ball Game

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

THE FARMER and his boys were playing ball at the end of the pasture when I came up... four figures on four bases, warming up with a brisk round of catch. From one to the other I saw them toss the ball, then wing it to the opposite side and back. It seemed no one but the thrower knew just who would receive the next chance to make a catch.

Then they changed. One got into the pitcher's box and Dad went to catcher's place. Dad's locks were grayed and his strong arms and stocky build were past middle age.

"Batter up," and only first was covered.

"Strike one," the catcher, as umpire, yelled, and held his finger up.

"Strike two." The batter fanned until he turned three-fourths around. "Ball one,"—it was above his shoulder.

"Strike three," and a grounder raced beyond the catcher's grasp.

For a home run, the batter ran to first and back to complete a score. He saw the ball come close across home plate, and slid—so gracefully that he knocked Dad's feet from under him and down they went in a heap.

The youngest boy, on first, yelled, "Good game, Dad—if you'd learn to stand on your own feet!" All three of the tall youths laughed and winked at each other while their father got stiffly onto his feet again. Then, for a breathing spell, he came up the grade and across the roadside ditch where I had parked and laid his elbows on the window of my car door.

"Don't let me interrupt the game," I said.

"You didn't. I was darn glad to be relieved. Them boys of mine run rings around me, and when I breathe hard they just laugh—but I can knock flies and catch better'n any of 'em.

"We've got two loads of hay in the barn and corn to work and a garden to be weeded—but we try to work hard while we're at it, and after supper we have a game of ball. Some of the neighbors work until nine or ten at night, and their crops aren't no better'n ours. Drudgery don't pay.

"I think the way to know my boys is to play with 'em. Somehow, I look forward to this game of ball as much as they do—but I wouldn't tell 'em that. It makes me stiff as a horse if they play some other games, but I try to keep up for their sakes. They say they'd rather stay at home and play than go to town—if I stay with 'em, and if they feel like that about it, I'm going to keep at it, even if the work does suffer some. The work will still be here, when I am gone, and the boys are away from home."

HARVEST HIKES DEMANDS FOR FARM SUPPLIES

2,561 Miles of Twine Sold, Dollar Volume of Business Jumps, Bureau Reports.

Richland county farmers, now in the midst of the wheat harvest, are using a lot of twine to bind the shocks according to figures released today by the Farm Bureau Co-operative.

A total of 473 bales or enough twine to be stretched a distance of 2,561 miles—roughly a distance from Mansfield to California—was sold by the Farm Bureau to Richland county farmers during the month of June.

..This mileage represents $2,200 worth of twine used by the farmers, but represents only a small part of the monthly dollar volume of the Co-operative, W. G. Davis, manager said.

Business this year has been better than last as is illustrated by a comparison of this year's figures with 1940 totals.

The June dollar volume is greater than the same month in 1940 by a total of $17,891, Davis said.

While this figure marks an increase over last year's total it marks a falling off from the April volume by $14,118, he said.

The summer season of June, July, and August mark a slack season at the Farm Bureau, Davis explained. The greatest volume yearly is during the months of April and May, as shown by monthly reports, he stated.

The dollar volume for June was $62,155 and that of April, the year's busiest month, was $76,851. The June volume in 1940 totaled only $44,264, he said.

The largest items in June's total were feed, $16,352, grain, $7,00 and machinery products, approximately $3,200, he said.

Large purchases of wheat were made during the month, he said because of good prices being offered for old wheat.

Heading the April dollar volume was fertilizer with a total of $15,105, feed, $14,651 and petroleum products approximately $13,000.

City Has No Park Meter Collector, That Is, Officially

Mansfield motorists continue to drop coins in parking meters to the tune of 40 cents a meter daily and the coins rarely, if ever, remain in the meter over two days but Mansfield has no parking meter collector.

How do the coins disappear? Answer: A man collects them every day.

Then, isn't he a parking meter collector? No.

Although Lloyd L. Kochenderfer had been collecting money from the city's meters for almost six months and still does, he is no longer parking meter collector. Not officially.

Council in appropriating $170 for the salary of the collector forgot that the original ordinance in which his position was created contained a clause "expiring June 30."

So when the funds were appropriated for the salary of the collector last Tuesday night, the funds were set up for a position which is non-existent.

It doesn't make much difference, however. Motorists still put coins in meters. Kochenderfer still collects them and the city still pays him for doing so.

World activity in chemical research has slumped about 13 per cent since outbreak of the European war.

Homeless Kitten Taken In Tow By Mother Dog

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—(INS)—Mother instinct knows no bounds, and Maggie, a mother dog of no certain breed, now has a family of three—a black pup, a white pup, and a striped kitty.

The tiger kitten, now the adopted child, is of royal birth and was "royally" neglected by its parents, Aggie and Rajah at the Griffith Park zoo at Los Angeles. Its mother refused to nurse the new-born cub and it was nearing death when zoo-keeper Charles Kern temporarily acted as stepmother.

He massaged the little fellow and for two hours fed it with goat milk mixed with whisky. Soon it showed signs of life and the search was started for a wet nurse.

One dog refused to nurse a tiger with her pups, but Maggie showed no such prejudice. She cuddled and sustained life where others failed. She was a mother.

Approximately 1,000,000 persons derive a livelihood from the 161 U. S. national forests in 40 states, Alaska and Puerto Rico.

Astronomy Taught To the Public In Novel Fashion

PHILADELPHIA —(INS)— Visitors to the Fels Planetarium at Franklin institute these days are being treated to a cartoon-astronomy double feature.

"There," says a demonstrator pointing to the planetarium dome, "are castor and pollux—the twin stars." Looking up, the audience sees in the "skies" the projected reflections of Mickey and Minnie Mouse where Roman-togaed figures once were shown.

The same thing happens when a reflection of Cygnus the Swan appears—it's Donald Duck instead of the snowy-necked bird used to represent the star in its position in the heavens. And other familiar cartoon figures have replaced other starry denizens.

It's all a scheme of the Franklin institute to familiarize the public with the positions and shapes of the stars. People will become more familiar with the heavens if more familiar illustrations are used, they figured.

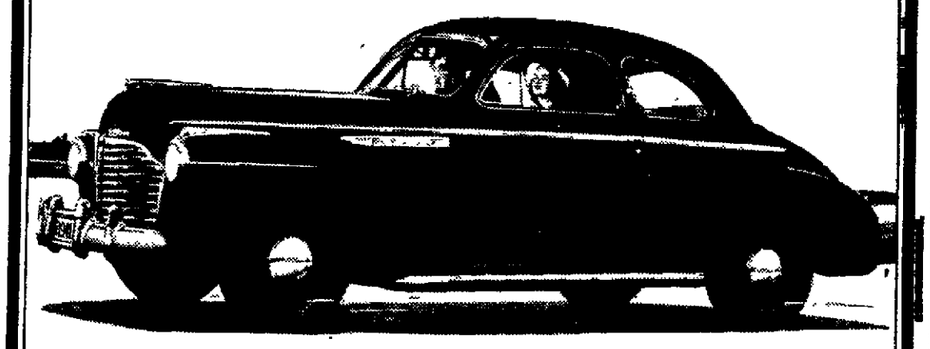
It's there with an Extra Wallop in reserve



SOMETIMES in your automobile you want zip and ginger, sometimes thrift.

Just name your choice. In this high-stepping Buick straight-eight with Compound Carburetion† you can have either, each in its proper place.

You can go about your business in easy, ordinary, everyday travel—and this frugal, two-carburetor system will keep you rolling smoothly with only the forward, thrift-size mixer on the job.

Yet any time you want life, lift, super-power it's there with an extra wallop in reserve—just step down on the treadle and you've got it.

That simple move sends the second carburetor into action; steps up not only fuel supply but the air supply as well.

Thus you have your fun—and frugality too. Owners report mileage figures as much as 10% to 15% higher than on previous Buicks of the same size.

Which means, better go look at the engine that's both thrill-packed and thrifty too. You'll find it in a bigger, roomier, smarter-looking automobile that gives you more value per dollar than anything else you can buy.

$930 for the Business Coupe illustrated above including Compound Carburetion, delivered at Flint, Mich. State tax, optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices and specifications subject to change without notice.

†Available at slight extra cost on Buick SPECIAL models, standard on all other Series.

PAYS YOUR GAS TAX FOR YOU

At present Federal tax rates, the savings on gasoline effected by Compound Carburetion are usually more than enough to pay Federal taxes on the gas you buy.

MEETING SET AT BUCYRUS ON DEED OFFER

Citizens Requested To Attend Session To Consider Plan of Railway Company.

BUCYRUS — Friday night was designated today by Mayor William F. Whitemire for the special council meeting to determine if the New York Central Railroad company's offer for clearance of a deed to property upon which the company's shops are located is to be accepted.

NYC officials have offered the city $11,000 and have further offered to assume all obligations to heirs of the original property owners. The property was given to the Toledo and Ohio Central R. R. 50 years ago by Bucyrus with the provision that it be used continuously for the company's principal repair shops of the Toledo-Thursday division.

Ten years ago the company withdrew most of its work here and the city attempted by court action to force continued work, but the supreme court held that the city was without right to force the company to do work no longer needed by the company. Since then a skeleton crew has been employed.

Council has called upon the citizenry to attend the Friday night meeting to offer opinions concerning the advisability of accepting the offer. Acceptance is favored by the council if it is not detrimental to those still employed at the shops.

FIGHTS COURT OUSTER THREAT

Proprietor Claims He Has Agreement for Lease of Store.

Charles M. Zitzer, Mansfield piano store proprietor, had filed a suit in common pleas court today to enjoin municipal court officials and Michael Holzmiller, owner of the building where Zitzer's store is located, from forcing him to vacate the building.

Zitzer contends that he has an oral agreement with Holzmiller for lease of the store room until March, 1942, but Holzmiller obtained an ouster order against him after receiving a better offer for the building.

Other defendants named in the action are Municipal Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch, August Schultz, municipal court bailiff, and Ralph Hughes, court clerk

He seeks an injunction to enjoin the court officials from prosecuting the ouster order and a declaratory judgment determining the status of his lease.

British Students Create a New Tea-Time Dish

LONDON—(INS)—The senior boys at Eton college, sons of Britain's wealthy, have created a new tea-time dish—sardines-on-toast.

This has followed the rationing of their former favorite "eggs and bacon" and provision dealers in the district are experiencing a hard time fulfilling all the boys needs.

"The custom of the college," said one provisioner, "is that the authorities provide breakfast, dinner, and supper for all, but only the younger boys are given tea.

"For as long as I can remember, it has been the tradition for the senior boys—those of 16, 17, and 18—to take tea in their studies, paid for by themselves, and prepared by their "fags."

SOVIETS CRUSH NAZI DIVISION, KILLING 12,000

light raid on Syracuse, on the Island of Sicily, and left a toll of 14 killed, 30 wounded at Naples, on the Italian mainland.

In general terms, the Nazis reported that the left wing of Germany's Baltic army was pounding two spearheads into Russian defenses—one directed at Tallinn, capital of Estonia; the other aimed at Leningrad, Russia's second biggest city, at the head of the Gulf of Finland.

Roughly, the main battle line ran from Ostrov, near the Latvian-Estonian frontier; thence 100 miles south to Polotsk; 100 miles southwest to Borisov, on the Minsk-to-Moscow highway; and 100 miles southeast to Bobruisk, on the Berezina river.

It was on the central river front, in the 50-mile stretch from Borisov to Lepel, that the Russians were apparently striking their hardest blows.

In the Lepel sector, a Moscow bulletin said, Soviet Red troops destroyed a Nazi motorized division, 40 guns and quantities of transport and machines.

"In the Borisov direction, our troops inflicted a serious defeat on an enemy division," the Soviet communique declared, and it noted that Russian counter-attacks were costing the Germans heavily in men and material.

On the Baltic flank, in the Ostrov sector, the Russians reported that Soviet troops "have beaten off all enemy attacks with heavy losses."

The Russians were reported attacking the Germans in the Polotsk area, while at the southern end of this line, near Bobruisk, the Red army was described as holding firm against Nazi attempts to fight their way across the Dnieper river east of the town.

Far to the south, in the Novograd Volynski sector of the western Ukraine and in Bessarabia, the Russians declared their defenses were also unyielding.

Attention in Berlin centered on the double-headed northern operations toward Tallinn and Leningrad, and it was possible that the Germans, after butting at the Russians without notable progress on the central front, might be attempting a vast flanking movement to sweep around the north anchor of the Stalin line.

German and Finnish reports claimed gains up to 35 miles into Soviet territory in pushes east toward the important rail line from Murmansk to Leningrad. The Finns reported encountering slight Soviet resistance and said counter attacking Red army troops were beaten back with heavy losses.

Britain, urged by Soviet spokesmen to strike at once in the west and catch the Germans on two fronts, was shaking herself free of pre-occupation in the Middle East, with firing slackening in Syria and Lebanon.

Gen. Henri Dentz, French commander of the Levant states, asked terms for an armistice there after a month of fighting between his forces and the British and Free French.

Dispatches from Ankara said two armed French ships, fleeing from Beirut to escape seizure, had been interned in Turkish waters.

In the British-German air war the Luftwaffe and RAF were busy again overnight. The British bombed western Germany and the Germans scattered their attacks over England.

RAF Bombers Attack Industrial Areas

LONDON—(U.P.)—British bombers heavily attacked German and German-occupied industrial centers last night in continuation of a hammering offensive, the air ministry said today. It reported that "much industrial damage" was visible at Aachen and Osnabruck.

Striking at Nazi war centers in almost constant day and night raids, the British pilots reported that badly damaged industrial buildings at Aachen were "plainly visible."

A heavy attack on Osnabruck centered on industries and communications lines, the air ministry added.

The two cities were the main targets of night attacks but lighter forces also bombed Bielefeld, Muenster and Ostend.

Four British planes were missing in the night raids.

German planes were active over Britain last night, but a joint air and home security communique reported that the raids were "almost entirely confined to coastal areas and very few aircraft came inland."

Four German raiders were reported shot down. The communique said bombs were dropped at points in southeast and north England, Scotland and East Anglia. Damage was said to be slight and no casualties were reported.

CINCINNATI—(INS)—Additional police armed with tear gas guns, were on duty today at the strike-bound meat plant of E. Kahn and Sons company as the result of disorders and a shooting in which 10 persons were hurt, one seriously, and eight others arrested.

The disorders began Tuesday as pickets paraded in a circular course past the main entrance. Additional pickets slept in cars as the round-the-clock picketing went on, and lunches and coffee were served to the strikers.

CONGRESS HITS MARSHALL PLAN

The lottery will be a miniature edition of the first selective service drawing last October, when the service sequence of 16,500,000 was involved. The same glass jar will be used, but the ceremonies will be simpler and officials expect the drawing to be completed in two hours.

As far as could be learned, the reports of congressional leaders to President Roosevelt on the possibility of selective service act changes dealt only with the ban on using trainees or guardsmen outside the hemisphere, and not with General Marshall's companion recommendation that the army be authorized to keep both classes of troops in service longer than the present legal limit of one year. This companion proposal, however, has aroused strong opposition in congress.

REPLY LACKING ON ARMISTICE

quences if his plea were rejected. The British commander was said to have asked Dentz to send him a reply under a flag of truce.

The message was described as similar to a communication which Wilson sent Dentz before French troops evacuated the besieged Syrian capital of Damascus June 21 and British troops marched in.

Earlier belief was expressed in some quarters in London that Dentz would accept the British armistice terms without delay. Official quarters gave no hint of what the terms might be, though one source said they would not be harsh and that the chief concern of the British and their free French allies was to insure Syrian independence free from German influence.

Allied patrols were reputed within sight of Beirut, and a military spokesman said fighting would go on in all sectors until the definite conclusion of an armistice.

It has been reported that more than 1,500 British, Australian and Indian soldiers have been killed in the month's fighting, and it is believed Vichy also has lost that many men. For the most part these Vichy forces have been Senegalese, Algerians, Tunisians and foreign legionnaires.

Demand French Turn Over Syrian Ships

ANKARA, Turkey —(U.P.)— (Delayed)— British military authorities have demanded that the Vichy forces in Syria hand over all warships in Syrian waters as well as all airplanes and other war equipment at their disposal as part of the armistice agreement, it was said in most reliable quarters today.

Armistice terms were said on reliable authority to include:

1—Britain has no territorial ambitions in Syria and Lebanon and only wishes to prevent those countries being used as military bases against Britain.

2—Gen. Henri Dentz, the Vichy commander, is required to hand over to the British all military equipment including airplanes and warships, and promise not to damage them or any Syrian communication facilities.

3—Vichy troops may return to France or join the Free French.

4—British authorities agree not to prosecute Frenchmen who carried out Vichy orders.

5—Syria becomes a member of the British sterling bloc, which means that trade may be started at once with Palestine and Egypt so that Syria may get urgently needed food and other supplies.

6—German and Italian officials must be handed over to the British.

7—French warships are to remain in Syrian harbors, although Britain reserves the right to move them if it thinks it necessary.

U. S. O. TO WORK AT ICELAND BASE

Announcement Indirectly Reveals 80,000 to Be Stationed There

NEW YORK — (INS) — Revealing for the first time the number of American troops that will be sent to Iceland, the United Service Organizations today announced that they are making plans to provide recreational facilities for 80,000 soldiers.

Richard W. Lawrence, city chairman of the USO, said the Canadian War Services had agreed to cooperate in the move.

SHOOTING ORDER TALK CAUSES BIG STIR IN CAPITAL

Senate Considers Investigation of Charges Firing Has Already Occurred.

even though he carefully avoided use of the word "shooting."

Knox informed newsmen that President Roosevelt had instructed the navy what to do if it became necessary to shoot in order to protect the Atlantic approaches to U. S. bases from "hostile activity or threat thereof," as Mr. Roosevelt phrased it.

Knox referred specifically to the passage in Mr. Roosevelt's message to congress on the occupation of Iceland, which read:

"I have consequently issued orders to the navy that all necessary steps be taken to insure the safety of communication in the approaches between Iceland and the United States, as well as on the seas between the United States and other strategic outposts."

The navy secretary firmly declined to place any interpretation of his own on the passage.

Like Knox, Willkie avoided the word "shooting" in an interview yesterday after a luncheon talk with the president. He termed it essential to keep the sea lanes to Britain open and warmly endorsed the occupation of Iceland as a step in the right direction.

The subject of previous shooting reports was raised when Chairman Walsh (D., Mass.) announced he would ask the senate naval committee to decide whether they warranted a formal inquiry.

Walsh called a meeting for the express purpose of voting on a resolution introduced by Senator Wheeler for an investigation of published reports that vessels in the Atlantic patrol had had brushes with German naval units.

Willkie discussed the occupation of Iceland informally at some length after leaving the White House yesterday, but emphasized he was expressing only his own views.

It was his opinion that the United States should follow up Iceland by arranging for bases in northern Ireland and Scotland to complete an arc of stepping stones across the North Atlantic. He mentioned this in connection with keeping the sea lanes open and furnishing effective aid to Britain.

Voicing his approval of the Iceland move, Willkie told reporters it was necessary "particularly in view of the German threat to take" the island.

Willkie had some fault to find with the production of defense materials here, contending that the program "is not effectively coordinated and it needs a single head."

Elsewhere in the capital, the Iceland discussion found Senators Taft (R., O.) and Pepper (D., Fla.) at loggerheads over whether Senator Wheeler deserved reproof for his advance forecast of the protective occupation.

"The United States is not at war," Taft declared. "Not only did Senator Wheeler have every right to reveal any facts about an expedition to Iceland which came to his attention, but the president of the United States had no right to conceal from the people the fact that for weeks he has been planning a secret expedition to Iceland which I believe he had no right to order.

"Mr. Churchill has no business interfering in the affairs of the United States."

Pepper, on the other hand, asserted that "undoubtedly Prime Minister Churchill reflects the concern that everybody responsible for the safety of our armed forces as well as for the national interest experiences about men in the congress who apparently regard themselves as under no responsibility with respect to disclosures of information of a military character."

Reject Proposal U. S. Britain Pool Navies

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Members of the senate naval affairs committee, Democrats and Republicans, today rejected Prime Minister Churchill's proposal that the United States and Great Britain pool their navies.

A majority of the members of the committee who were in Washington, and who could be reached for comment, said that if such a step were carried out the United States would be engaging in an active war against Germany.

Sen. Ellender, (D.) La., said that not only would such a program result in "a shooting war" with Germany, but that it would give Japan an opportunity to attack the United States.

"Japan is waiting for an opportunity to attack us," Ellender said, "and if we should decrease our naval strength in the Pacific by joining forces with Great Britain in the Atlantic and elsewhere she would jump on us in a moment."

Sen. Wiley, (R.) Wis., asserted that "if we were to consolidate our fleets we would be on an active belligerent basis."

FDR Bans Newsmen From Iceland

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — President Roosevelt today placed a temporary prohibition against American newspapermen proceeding to Iceland where American naval forces are consolidating their occupation.

The prohibition was announced by White House Secretary Stephen T. Early, who said, however, that representatives of American news agencies already in Iceland will be allowed to continue their functions there.

Under Mr. Roosevelt's decision, American press agency newsmen and syndicate photographers will be allowed to go to Iceland after the occupation is complete and forces there are consolidated.

"The president feels, and I think very naturally, that for the time being Iceland is a purely military picture," Early said. "As soon as the occupation is complete and conditions there are generally organized, I don't think there will be any objection to letting the press association people in and I don't know how many others."

NEW WHEAT ON MARKETS HERE

southern part of the county and Morrow and Crawford counties, grain dealers said. The quality is said to be the best in recent years.

Because of the huge carry-over of wheat under the government loan and storage program, elevator men said there may be a serious storage problem before the end of the harvest season.

Thousands of bushels of grain is already stored in elevators and on farms and the big crop being harvested now is expected to overflow the bins.

Meanwhile, farmers in five more Ohio counties organized to fight the government marketing quotas which limit the amount of grain farmers can sell this summer.

Representatives of the AAA program in Ohio said they believed protesting farmers would run into a legal stone wall if they attempt to test the constitutionality of the wheat marketing quotas.

They pointed out that the supreme court upheld similar restrictions on the sale of cotton and tobacco and there was no reason why the court would make an exception in the case of wheat.

97 PER CENT FAVOR LAW ON HORN-BLOWING

Poll Shows Great Majority of Mansfielders Want Curb on Auto Noise.

needless blowing of horns. Since then the drive has drawn support from Probate Judge S. H. Cramer, Sheriff Frank Robinson and other officials.

In the poll conducted by The News-Journal, five questions were asked. The queries used by interviewers and the number of "Yes" and "No" answers they received are:

Do you drive a car? Yes, 45; No, 15.

Do you believe it necessary to blast at a horn to get through a traffic tie-up? No, 60; Yes, 0.

Does continual honking of a horn by another annoy you as a driver? As a pedestrian? Yes, 56; No, 4.

Do you think you could drive for 500 miles without resorting to the use of a horn? Yes, 43; No, 16.

Would you favor an ordinance that would prohibit the blowing of an automobile horn, except in cases of emergency? Yes, 58; No. 2.

The two persons who opposed the ordinance said they believed an educational program would serve the purpose better than a restriction against the use of horns.

Most of the residents interviewed were emphatic in their belief that an ordinance would go a long way toward eliminating the horn-blowing nuisance.

"The passing of such an ordinance would be one of the best things for the city," said Mrs. Martin Bricker, 144 Gibson avenue. "There is entirely too much horn blowing which is nerve-wracking for driver and pedestrian. It's certainly time something was done about it."

Mrs. W. A. Fendrick, 419 West Fourth, said "there's always a reason why a driver isn't moving in traffic, and blowing a horn in a tie-up doesn't solve the problem."

Favoring the ordinance, Jimmy Lemley, 323 South Main street, who is blind and depends largely on sound to direct him, commented that "so many drivers have the horn-blowing habit that you can't tell any more when there's danger for the pedestrian and he doesn't know when to get out of the way."

Horn-blowing is dangerous to pedestrians because it might frighten them and cause them to make moves which would result in injury, Mrs. B. M. Banks, 491 Forest avenue, said.

"They ought to do something about these wedding parties that go through town with horns blaring," Atty. John F. Kramer said. "Maybe an ordinance would help to stop the horn-blowers who make life miserable for the poor driver whose car stalls at a traffic light. A chorus of horns back of him gets him so confused he can't do anything."

Mrs. S. R. Johnson, 618 South Diamond street, said auto horns even disturb families in her neighborhood when they try to read or sleep in their homes. "I think an ordinance would be a wonderful thing," she said.

"Substitution of a blast on the horn for a hello greeting is unnecessary," commented Margery Ludwig, 50½ Park avenue west. "When I want music I don't want it from an automobile horn."

ATTACKED

"It is no fun to be ATTACKED by acid indigestion, gas, sour stomach, shortness of breath, and 'heartburn' due to constipation, but if you need a reliable medicine for it, my advice is to take Vendol," says Mr. Clinton S. Warman of Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

When constipation causes you to suffer symptoms like that tired, no-good feeling, lack of pep and enthusiasm, feel cross and irritable, awaken with a headache, bad taste in your mouth, breath offensive, a little dizzy, and the muscles of your neck, arms, shoulders, back, and legs feel sore and stiff, all due to constipation, start taking Vendol, the medicine with a 17-year reputation of helping people. Get that all-important temporary relief from constipation and see if you don't soon feel like a different person too.

Vendol is pleasant to take, prompt to act. Buy the larger sizes for economy.

OCCUPANTS OF CAR TOSSED 70 FEET INTO AIR

after ploughing more than 200 feet through the field. The machine upset as it came to a halt, the victims having already been thrown clear of the wreckage.

Prosser, patrolmen theorized, was also thrown out but was partially protected by the rear seat where he was sitting in the car.

Both Patterson and Bemiller were tossed through the top of the automobile, a convertible sedan. Patrolmen said that both would probably have been killed instantly if the car had been equipped with a steel top.

Time of the crash was placed by patrolmen at about 3:30 a. m. No witnesses to the crash were located. Truck drivers, noticing the lights of the overturned car shooting high into the air, notified patrolmen shortly before 4 a. m.

Costume Jewels And Lace Are New Fancies

By ORRY-KELLY

Hollywood Stylist Writing For International News Service.

HOLLYWOOD — Lace and costume jewels dominated the scene when Hollywood recently danced at a charity benefit. There were even lace muffs and small crown caps of it.

Everyone looked more than twice at Ginger Rogers' effective "rainbow" lace with bodice of black chantilly and full skirt of narrow lace ruffles shading from black into almost every color of the spectrum. It suggested the new South American theme. Ginger wore long black gloves.

Earrings are evidently creeping further toward a lady's shoulders and higher on her ears from proofs we saw that evening. Joan Crawford's striking amethyst earrings are called, she informed us, "chandelier" earrings because they hang in heavy drops from a fragile button on the lobes. Olivia de Havilland in the other extreme, had slipped small squids of gold and sapphires to her ears with the tentacles gracefully capturing the very tops of them. Olivia's gown was a print of minute flowers on a silvery background.

Ida Lupino's altar-boy coat of blue lace was another hit of the evening. It topped a dinner gown in matching blue crepe with slit skirt.

Tops in a white and black combination was Carole Lombard's dress with black skirt and separate long jacket in white linen the side closing, bracelet length sleeves and the bottom edged with a wide ruffle of cotton lace. She wore small emerald button earrings and a narrow emerald bracelet.

For Friday, July 11.

The general trend of events on this day, according to the adverse astral influences, may be toward the difficult and dangerous. A disintegrating and undermining force is possibly at work, thwarting and frustrating even the best-laid plans and well thought out objectives. There are signs of misinterpretation, fraud and trickery and sinister and stubborn obstacles as well as sudden and unlooked for upsets and delays. These may be fundamental and deeprooted, and would not be vanquished or remedied by superficial, impetuous or erratic moves or methods. Change with caution, make decisions slowly and preserve the health. There may be an unexpected social or romantic adventure, to compensate.

Those whose birthday it is may be called upon to cope with a sudden, deeprooted and tenacious obstacle to their cherished plans, with surprising upheaval, delay or other disintegrating visitation. Winning out against this will require sound reasoning, deep study of underlying impediments and slow decisions, as erratic, rash and impulsive moves would be disastrous. Check nervous tension, husband resources and be comforted and strengthened by a surprising social, domestic or emotional visitation. Keep alert to fraud and treachery in all business relations.

By MARIAN MARTIN

What word stands for 'round-the-clock usefulness . . . trim smartness . . . ageless style? It's shirt-waister," of course! Marian Martin shows this perennial favorite in a bright new version—Pattern 9758—a style that's easy to cut and stitch. The popular new plunging V-neckline is accentuated by a well-haped, notched collar and a deep pointed yoke. Optional link buttons give a smart touch.

There's a trim band about the waist and the front of the skirt boasts two panels. If you make short sleeves, do add neat little bands.

Pattern 9758 may be ordered only in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 3¼ yards 39 inch fabric.

Send Fifteen Cents in coins for this Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your Size, Name, Address and Style Number.

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

Olga's fear had come true, I told myself, as I saw Noel start across the floor toward us. One of the "unrestrained rages" of his bar sinister royal heritage plainly had him in its grip, vanquishing the gentler nature which was his inheritance from his mother.

I could not blame him, I found myself saying, even as I rose from my seat with the feeling that I must do something — anything— to stop that onward rush which would end, I knew, only with a savage attack upon Stephen Redfield.

"Oh, hurry!" I heard Olga and Nancy Carew breathe behind me, and was dimly conscious that Philip Veritzen had crossed to the side of his young daughter-in-law. I found myself wishing vindictively that it were possible for him to slap her soundly.

And then I met Noel face to face, and put my hand appealingly upon his arm in such fashion that unless he literally knocked me down, he could not pass me.

"Noel," I said, in such muted tones that no one else could possibly hear me, "I am so faint, and everybody is so busy! Won't you take me out into the hall?"

It was lame enough, in all purpose, and I knew it did not deceive him in the least. But at least it stopped him in his headlong rush.

"You don't really mean that," he said but with deference in the protest. "You just want to keep me from killing that swine, as I ought to have done long ago."

"I mean it enough that I shall swoon in your arms in another second, if you do not take me out of here immediately," I said steadily. "As for your killing a swine, I probably shall stand by and applaud. Only don't do it so theatrically, with so ridiculous an audience. Let it wait a bit."

Luckily I had hit upon the one argument which could stop him. Above everything in the world, probably because of his environment, he hates to be considered "theatrical," and I could feel his arm stiffen beneath my grasp.

"You win," he said softly. "It will keep till I get another chance. Now, out of which door do you wish to go?"

"The nearest," I said, not sure yet of my triumph, and not wanting to risk its turning to defeat. But as we turned to it, I heard in his quick, low words an assurance that for the present at least his brainstorm had subsided.

"If I give you my word that I will not start anything," he said hesitantly, "don't you think it would be better if I came back in, told Mother or Miss Carew or—or Mary—that you weren't feeling well and asked one of them to come out to you.

"If I came back quickly enough, these people might think I really had taken you out, instead of it being the other way. No use their gloating over something which didn't happen—yet."

"I think that is a very good suggestion, Noel," I said, "and of course I'll take your word."

We had reached the outer door and were through it. I sat down in a chair which stood in the hallway of the suite, and motioned to Noel to go back.

"Make as much haste as you can," I said.

WHAT BIG TWO-BIDS DO

Most of the strongest players today will not make an opening suit bid of two, a force to game, except with a very strong hand, one which will make a game if their partners have even so little as less than an honor trick. That makes it necessary for their partners to protect their opening suit bids of one, which may be on hands nearly strong enough for a two-bid. So, if the partner keeps it open with only a few dregs, it is unfortunate when he finds the first bid had been on a minimum or near minimum. He may get his head beaten off then if he is doubled. But that risk is worth while, they find, to make it possible to keep the bidding low on the great majority of hands.

♠ K Q 7 3 ♥ 6 2 ♦ 10 8 5 3 ♣ K Q 8	W. N. E. S.	♠ 9 8 4 ♥ A Q 10 9 ♦ A J ♣ 9 4 3 2
	♠ 5 2 ♥ 8 7 5 3 ♦ 9 7 4 2 ♣ A J 6

(Dealer: North. Both sides vulnerable.)

1 ♠	Pass	1 NT	Pass
Pass	Dbl	Pass	Pass

West's pass was with great pleasure. This was the hand which caused the end of your writer's streak, which ended at 20 consecutive rubbers. The first deal of the twenty-first gave us a game, the second gave one to Lee Hazen and Willard Karn, then along came this hand.

Since the double indicated preparedness for hearts, the heart 6 was led to the J and Q, and a club to the Q afforded a chance for another heart lead, the A taking the K and the next two hearts being cashed before the club 3 was put through to the J and K, the 8 then knocking out the A. The spade 2 caused West to split honors, his Q falling to the A and his K then taking the J. The diamond 3 brought the Q and A, whereupon the club 9 was cashed for the ninth trick by the defenders. The spade 10 and diamond K got the last two tricks for the declarer, who was down three tricks for a loss of 800 points.

On the next deal, our side made a plain 3-No Trumps, giving us the rubber game, but losing the rubber on total points by 180, a "two rubber." So the streak ended at 20. Now we wonder what is the longest streak anybody else ever heard of.

Tomorrow's Problem.

	♠ Q J 5 ♥ Q 9 7 4 3 ♦ J 10 5 ♣ 10 4

(Dealer: West. Neither side vulnerable.)

Can you imagine any way whereby a good player can fail to make 3-No Trumps on this deal, after a lead of the spade 3, because he was seeking too many extra tricks?

FAT GIRLS

Here's A Tip For You

All over America Kruschen Salts is appealing to girls and women who strive for an attractive, free-from-fat figure that seldom fails to win admiration.

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take ½ teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast; cut out pastries and fatty meats — go light on white bread, potatoes, butter and cream—that's all. Do this every morning. In three weeks get on the scales and note how many pounds of fat have vanished. Notice also that you've gained in energy, your skin seems clearer, your eyes sparkle with more glorious health—you feel younger in body, keener in mind.

Leading druggists America over sell Kruschen Salts, (a famous English formula) plain or new effervescent—sparkling—pleasant. You can always get it at any druggist. Try one bottle; lasts 4 weeks and costs but little. If not supremely satisfied, money back.

Personal To Fat Girls

Now you may slim down your face and figure without starvation dieting or back-breaking exercises. Just eat sensibly and take Marmola under the conditions and according to directions on the package.

Marmola Tablets have been sold to the public for more than thirty years. More than twenty million boxes have been distributed during that period.

Marmola is not a cure-all. Marmola is only for adult fat persons whose fatness is caused by a thyroid deficiency (hypothyroidism) but who are otherwise normal and healthy. We do not make any diagnosis as that is the function of your physician, who must be consulted for that purpose. Why not try to lose those ugly, uncomfortable pounds the Marmola way? Get a box of Marmola today from your druggist.

Esther Class Has Birthday Party

Members of the Esther class of the Mayflower Congregational church met for their quarterly birthday party Wednesday noon at John's park. Fourteen were in attendance and enjoyed a picnic dinner. Gifts were presented to all those whose birthdays occurred during April, May or June. Mrs. Mary Dinges, president, conducted the business session and devotions.

Mrs. Pearl Hainer was in charge of general arrangements. The next meeting will be held Aug. 13 with Mrs. Carl Stough, Grant street.

WORK ON ROADS

WPA Workers To Improve 3 Miles In Monroe Township.

The bituminous treatment to be given two Monroe township roads will furnish labor for approximately 70 WPA workmen, County Engineer Howard Sword said today, as the 2.93-mile stretch on the Lucas-Perrysville road, was being prepared for treatment.

When work is finished on the first road the Koogle-Harlan road in Monroe and Mifflin townships, 5.55 miles, will be treated, Sword said.

WPA will furnish the labor and a part of the materials for the project while county engineers provide supervision, equipment for the project, and the remainder of the materials.

DROWNS DUCK

BERLIN, Md.—(INS)—Harold W. Webb, was boating on Johnson's Bay near here when he saw a wild duck do a "Stuka dive" and plunge four feet beneath the water in search of food. The duck's bill went right into the open mouth of an oyster and the latter promptly closed its shells, trapping the bird. The buoyancy of the duck's body brought it to the top of the water, but the weight of the oyster held the duck's head under the surface until it drowned. Webb retrieved both the duck and the oyster.

U. S. Calls for Release of 'Hostages'

BROADWAY

—By Dorothy Kilgallen

Manhattan Nights.

TALK of the town these evenings—or at any rate, talk of the part of the town that specializes in champagne cocktails, ringside tables, glamor, and the midnight hours—is a lady named Gloria Swanson. And it is very pleasant talk, which would gratify the subject if she could hear it.

Dorothy Kilgallen

It consists chiefly of admiring phrases like, "Doesn't she look wonderful?" and "She doesn't look a day over 25" and "How does she do it?"

I saw Miss Swanson the other night, and I recalled a phrase I had read about her in a fan magazine in the days before movies could talk and before I was old enough to go to night clubs to see such things for myself. "When she comes into a room," the fan magazine said, "she makes every other woman at the party look dowdy."

The other night I realized what the fan mag writer had meant. Gloria Swanson walked in and it is quite true that after she had walked in most of the other women present looked a little droopy. La Swanson, with her sharp, interesting profile, her ramrod carriage, her coal-black hair and icing-white teeth, looked like a Fifth avenue department store window-mannequin from which the cellophane had just been unwrapped. It was hot out, but apparently no one had told her.

Anyway, she made the room buzz. I imagine that was what she made rooms do back in the days when she was Queen of the Silent Cinema, but I will bet there was no one then, friend or rival, whoever guessed that she could still do it this many years later.

Proof of how ravishing she looks in the flesh lies, I think, in the comment I heard a gentleman make at the Barberry room a couple of afternoons ago. La Swanson swept in and the gentleman looked up at her with a bright gleam in his eyes. "Heavens," he exclaimed, "doesn't Fay Wray look wonderful"

Last week three persons whose names were tapped out often by the typewriters of Broadway columnists died—Auriol Lee, Sam Harris and Eleanor "Cookie" Young. They were all "items" to me at various times, but two I knew and one I had never met.

Cookie Young was a pretty dark-haired girl with a long bob who danced in El Morocco and looked a little older than her age and never looked very happy, even when she was dancing; I didn't know her.

Sam Harris was a genial, friendly, fatherly old man with a great sweetness of manner and a way of seeming to be always chuckling inwardly at some pleasant joke.

Auriol Lee was one of the ten most interesting women I've ever known.

She was quick, salty, and full of wit. I was surprised to read that she was 61, because she never seemed within 10 years of that age, and I'm sure Auriol would have been furious at the papers for mentionig.

Lunch with Auriol always ran well into the middle of the afternoon, chiefly because she was so entertainingly talkative you kept staying for one more story. She knew and had directed, here and in London, such celebrated ladies as Merle Oberon, Madeleine Carroll, and Ruth Chatterton, and she was full of lore about them. Not just gossipy reminiscense — Auriol's were real funny stories with points.

She was friendly with the Duke of Windsor before and around the time of the abdication, and I used to love to hear her talk about the former Mrs. Wallis Simpson, whom she apparently also had known intimately. Auriol, with her tongue in her cheek, always pretended to be amazed (I am sure she was never amazed in her life) that Mrs. Simpson had "got so far."

"Poor Wally," she said once. "She was always such a mousy little thing!"

And there, St. Peter, I give you Auriol Lee—the only woman in Christendom who was capable of regarding the Duchess of Windsor as "mousy."

People who think that only children read comic strips will be enlightened, I am sure, to learn this fact: The bartender at the Stork club and the girl cashier at the same rendezvous both wrote in to the N. Y. Journal-American yesterday to apply for membership in the Buck Rogers Secret Rocket Rangers, a club started in one of the comic strips.

Between martinis and checks heavy with couvert charge, they are eagerly awaiting the arrival of their medals, membership cards and secret numbers.

HOLLYWOOD

—By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—Not long ago a trade paper reviewer summarized a movie about a rich man with one devastating word: "Bankrupt."

So some of us got to playing a game, outcome of which was interesting, to wit: there's scarcely a movie title which can't be given the brief and acid brush-off.

We took titles old and new, and tried our vitriol—with frank disregard for the quality of the films they adorn. The idea was simply to appraise the film, good or bad, as curtly as possible, playing on the title or answering it flippantly.

Someone started, easily enough, with "Nine Lives Are Not Enough." His one-line epitaph: "But nine reels are too many."

"Reap the Wild Wind" was next. "Flop crop" won out over "No wonder the farmers need relief."

"Look Who's Laughing!" was a push-over. Came a chorus: "Well, who?"

"Underground?" (1) "Why'd it come up?" (2) "Deserves to remain decently buried," and so on.

"We Are Not Alone," an excellent movie of months ago, drew "But you will be—except for the mice!"

"Western Union" looked tough, until finally this emerged: "Take a wire. Stop. Don't go. Stop."

"Flame of New Orleans"—"Flickering low."

Add interesting movie debuts: He came to town on a visit 12 years ago, a third cousin of Will Rogers from Oklahoma. He had studied to be a surveyor, but while here he thought he'd look over the movie lots. He wandered over to a studio, said howdy to the gateman, and walked in. He wandered over to a sound stage, and was looking on as an innocent bystander when someone said, "Hold this!" He was handed a piece of equipment, and he obliged.

Next day he came back, and in no time he was helping around the set again. Finally someone asked: "You work here?"

"No," he said.

But by that time he was interested, and they thought he was useful, so he was offered a job. He became an assistant-everything, each in turn, and wound up, six years ago, as a chief cameraman, which he still is. Today Lucien Ballard "shoots" all of John Brahm's movies.

SAWYER CALLS ON DEMS TO ASK EXTRA SESSION

Would Seek Tax Cut as Party Settles Headquarters and Patronage Questions.

(By International News Service)

WILMINGTON — The state Democratic organization today was called upon by National Committeeman Charles Sawyer to "force" Governor Bricker to call a special session of the legislature to cut existing taxes and provide for a more equitable distribution of tax revenues.

At a peace conference of county leaders at Sawyer's nearby Bunker Hill farm, designed to heal rifts in the state Democratic ranks, Sawyer announced that the two major causes of discord, the questions of separate state headquarters and of federal patronage, had been settled.

Democratic National Chairman Edward J. Flynn, according to Sawyer, has approved a plan to clear all national patronage questions, other than those allotted to Democratic congressmen, through a three-member Ohio board composed of Sawyer, National Committeewoman Mildred R. Jaster of Cleveland, and State Central Committee Chairman Albert Horstman.

A conference between Horstman, Sawyer and J. Freer Bittinger, state executive committee chairman, resulted in a decision to combine the national committee's Ohio offices and the state party offices at a location agreed upon mutually.

Mapping his program for Democratic action in Ohio, Sawyer declared:

"The most effective action the Democrats could take at this time is to demand that the governor call a special session of the legislature before the end of the year to enact measures which will provide more equitable distribution of tax revenues and effect substantial tax reductions.

"In view of the enormous national defense spending program, there is no valid reason for the state's 'do-nothing' attitude toward a program of real economy in the state government — the kind of economy which would mean something to the taxpayers.

"Thus far, our present governor's economy program has meant nothing but higher costs to all of us."

Sawyer urged that the Democrats force the special session yet this year rather than next, because next year "political considerations would be of paramount importance and would jeopardize any program of real economy."

SUSPECT HELD

Man Charged With Threat To Kidnap Doctor's Child.

CINCINNATI —(AP)— A suspect registered as Seymour Phillips, 22, waiter, was held on an extortion warrant today after detectives thwarted an alleged attempt to kidnap and slay the two-week-old daughter of Dr. Walter B. Phillips, no relation, of residential Avondale.

The suspect denied any knowledge of the scheme.

Detective John Schmidt said the man telephoned three times to the physician's home last night, demanding $1,200 under threat that his baby would be kidnaped and "done away with." Dr. Phillips summoned police after the second call which, he said, came within five minutes of the first.

STATE POLICE AT MINE ROW SCENE

Re-inforcements Held Ready After 13 Miners Wounded, 20 Stoned.

(By International News Service)

POTTSVILLE, Pa. — State policemen carrying riot sticks and tear gas bombs patroled Pennsylvania's lower anthracite region today in aftermath of armed battles between bootleg miners and coal company police at the scene of stripping operations.

Reinforcements were held in readiness of orders of Gov. Arthur H. James to prevent a renewal of outbreaks in which 13 miners were wounded by shotgun pellets and 20 other men were stoned and beaten.

All of those shot or injured in the most serious clash, at the operations of the Correale Construction company, near Donaldson, 16 miles west of here, escaped with minor wounds. Miners struck by gunshot were among the crowd which stormed a stripping operation and seized a power shovel. Five private policemen were among those given hospital treatment.

In other outbreaks, the bootleggers blew up a power shovel with dynamite, set fire to an air compressor on another shovel at Williamstown, about eight miles from Donaldson, and seized a third shovel after chasing the operator in the western end of Schuylkill county.

The bootleggers contend that surface operations by owners of independent breakers should be stopped.

The operators insist they are engaged in a legitimate business on leased land and should have police protection.

ASSERTS NATION FACES NO REAL SHORTAGE IN SUPPLY OF STEEL

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO—Walters S. Tower, president of the American Iron and Steel Institute, declared today "There is no sound factual basis for expecting a shortage of steel supply for any essential use."

He said if any acute condition was to be experienced, it was close at hand because of the coincidence of pressing demands for early delivery.

"Like a river in flood, that sort of demand rises rapidly to the crest, but it does not rise forever," Tower said in an address prepared for delivery to the 19th annual meeting of the purchases and stores division of the Association of American Railroads.

Any real shortage of steel for non military uses, he said, seems "both unlikely and unnecessary," but if it should come it could be dealt with by rationing or curtailing the more dispensable uses and by a program of wholesale expansion. Tower drew this picture of steel demand supply:

Rated steelmaking capacity today is more than 85,000,000 net tons of ingots in a year and next year will be substantially more.

The actual output for the first half of 1941 has been at the rate of about 82,000,000 tons.

For this calendar year, American defense program and British-Canadian needs represent an ingot equivolent of not more than 18,000,000 tons.

For 1942, the current estimate for the American program is a little larger, but the British need next year, still uncertain, is hardly likely to expand very much.

Patrolman Frend C. Boals proved the other day that he "plays no favorites" when he issues traffic tickets. His friends are telling how Boals, whose Safety Town received prominent space in the current issue of American magazine, tagged the car of a representative of the magazine while he was posting pictures of Boals and Safety Town in store windows. Boals said he didn't know who owned the car and it wouldn't have made any difference anyway since it was parked overtime.

ASKS GERMANY, ITALY TO FREE ALL AMERICANS

Warns Fascist, Nazi Citizens Will Be Detained In This Country as Reprisal.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — The United States has taken action to obtain the immediate repatriation of Americans held prisoners by the Nazis or detained in Germany, Italy and Nazi-conquered Europe.

The state department, it was learned authoritatively today, has implicitly warned Germany and Italy that unless Americans held as "retaliation hostages" in Nazi-Europe are freed and granted exit permits no German or Italian nationals will be permitted to leave this country.

The alien registration showed approximately 660,000 Italians and 330,000 Germans now living in the United States, in contrast to the few thousand Americans still in Germany, Italy or Axis-dominated countries. A large proportion of the Germans and Italians here were reported to have applied for American citizenship, however.

The possible detention of Axis aliens here would not affect the German and Italian consular officials and employes who have been ordered by President Roosevelt to leave the United States by July 15.

Immediate action is desired, it was learned, so that some of the Americans may return to the United States on board the West Point, formerly the luxury liner America, which soon will make a round trip across the Atlantic.

The vessel will sail from New York July 15 with several hundred German and Italian consular officials, their families, and employes of official Nazi and Fascist organizations, and on the return voyage will bring home American consular officers and employes requested to leave Germany, Italy, occupied France, Belgium, The Netherlands, Greece, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Denmark and Norway.

Those convicted were: John E. Bernstein, Cleveland; Clifford Gilliam, Detroit; Walter Slater, Cleveland; and John J. Cormier, Canton.

Twenty men, headed by Promoter Christian W. Beck, were indicted previously and are awaiting sentence. Beck and four of the men indicted with him, are under sentence on similar charges in Chicago.

NEW SOLUTION FOUND TO HEAL BURNS BY LYE

Hydrosulphosol Applied To Facial Injuries With Surprising Success.

PHOENIX, Ariz.—(U.P.)—Success in treatment of lye burns with hydrosulphosol in the first case of its type in the United States has been disclosed in a report of the Good Samaritan hospital staff of Phoenix.

The physicians said the record kept of the treatment may serve to establish the safety of hydrosulphosol for use about the eyes, nose and mouth.

The patient was Pat Gibbons, 48, captain of the Arizona State prison guard. A prisoner dashed a quart jar of commercial lye full into Gibbons' face.

The lye solution entered Gibbons' nose and mouth, burned his eyes, tongue, neck and both ears. The lids and ball of each eye were burned severely.

Physicians sprayed the burned areas thoroughly with hydrosulphosol solution every hour during the first 24 hours.

Gibbons has regained the full sight of his left eye and treatment for his light eye is being continued. Most of his face has healed "surprisingly free of scars," the physicians reported. Except for one patch over his lift eye, his appearance is normal.

Growth of new cells is stimulated by the drug which lays down a thin, pliable coating over the burned areas. This reduces the pain because it excludes oxygen from the burned areas, and speeds up the healing process.

Dr. A. E. Cruthirds of Phoenix learned of the drug from Dr. Ralph R. Mellon, medical director of the Institute of Pathology at Pittsburgh, who visited the Arizona city recently.

Use of hydrosulphosol solution was developed after three years of research at the Institute of Pathology, Western Pennsylvania hospital, Pittsburgh.

Dr. Wilmot F. Pierce, chief surgeon at Golden State hospital, Los Angeles, developed use of the solution for treatment of burns. But this was the first case in which it was applied to lye burns.

Draftee Recalls Time He Served In Italian Army

MINERAL WELLS, Tex.—(INS)—There's at least one former soldier of Mussolini who's convinced things over in the United States are a lot better—and a lot more worth fighting for.

He's Private John B. Calabria, 29, who came to Camp Wolters as a draftee from Willard, O. Calabria was born at Grizzeria, Italy, and served in the Italian army from 1927 through 1928. He was due to be called up again in 1932, but he sailed for the United States a month before.

While he was a Fascist soldier he was tossed into an Italian army guardhouse once. It was "awful," he says. Asked how he likes the American brand of guardhouse, Calabria grins and says:

"I've never been in one and I'm not going to start. I get along with everybody here."

TRAILER CAMPS MEET DEFENSE HOUSING NEEDS

Southern California Tries To Avoid Specter of Ghost Towns.

LOS ANGELES—(U.P.)—Federal authorities now believe that a perambulating home, the automobile trailer, may be the answer to the problem of housing national defense workers in many sections of the country.

Having easily overcome the two primary wants of man, food and clothing, national defense leaders have had to cope with the question of providing shelter for hundreds of thousands of persons who have been transplanted from their homes to work on defense projects.

Using Southern California as a testing ground in solving the housing problem, authorities recently concluded that the trailer is at least an excellent temporary solution.

The question of sheltering the necessary workers arose when investors and contractors shied away from building low cost houses to accommodate transient workers, fearing ghost towns would be created at the end of the emergency when the men returned to their homes.

And, although under the federal housing administration's title VI plan some homes were constructed, many workers in defense centers found themselves well-paid but homeless.

So the automobile trailer entered the picture and thousands of the two-wheeled bungalows are serving as comfortable lodgings for the men and their families.

The government supervises the construction of the trailers down to the last nut and bolt and four persons are able to live in one of them. Heating units, cooking stoves, mechanical refrigerators and light and water are provided —and some owners even add a dog house.

The moving domiciles are parked in large lots clustered around defense projects — such as airports, army camps, aircraft plants, and naval bases—at Santa Monica, San Diego, San Luis Obispo, Long Beach, Riverside, Glendale and San Pedro, all in Southern California. Almost 600 trailers are being transported to five tracts of land near the San Diego navy and army projects alone.

Here's Picture Of the Typical American Tourist

YOUNGSTOWN—(INS)—You are the typical American motorist if:

You are between 40 and 45 years old.

You have a wife, a son and a daughter.

You live in a town of less than 5,000 people, in a house that is worth from $4,500 and $4,820. (Whether or not you own it doesn't matter; that's a 50-50 proposition.)

Your income is between $20 and $30 a week.

You have a bank account of $500.

The face value of your life insurance policies is $900.

Your auto is a closed car four or five years old, worth $225, although it was worth more when you bought it a year ago. You never bought a new auto

You drive, on an average, 8,500 miles a year, although only 10 per cent of this driving is more than 30 miles from home.

Wrong Man Got Legacy In Odd Mix-up of Names

CAMBRIDGE, Mass —(INS)—He wasn't the right man, so James Vincent Maher, 32, Margaret street, Arlington, must return a legacy of $481 86, plus $25 interest.

So ruled Judge Harold P. Williams in Middlesex superior court where Maher was charged with larceny of $481.86 from an Arlington bank and with perjury in connection with the making of an affidavit.

It was alleged that Maher received a letter from a California lawyer telling him of the death of a California resident and that if he signed an affidavit he could share in the estate. The letter was addressed to: James Maher, Arlington, Mass.

Some time later, another James Maher. this one a resident of Magnolia street, Arlington, learned of his legacy. Investigation revealed it had been paid to the other Maher.

James Vincent Maher pleaded nolo to the charge of larceny. The plea was accepted by Judge Williams, who ruled he must make restitution plus 6 per cent interest The perjury charge was not prossed.

Forms Club For Grandfathers of North America

SACRAMENTO, Cal. — (INS) — Even grandfathers should be united to insure proper consideration, believes Walton E. Holmes, Sacramento grandfather and banker

"I feel there should be some place where a grandfather can obtain a hearing," he said and announced the formation of Local No. 1 of the Amalgamated Association of Grandfathers Clubs of North America.

"Parents and grandmothers are inclined to push grandfathers into the background and so I think an organization will help us get our case before the public," he said.

Although the rules and by-laws have not been completed, Holmes announced there would be a provision in the constitution which will grant each member of the club three or four minutes at each meeting to tell how smart, cute and beautiful his grandchild (or grandchildren) is (or are.)

In the early Indian wars, more white women and children were carried away captive, probably, than were killed.

It's a whiz in hardest water! It's 8 ways better!

1. Suds 2 times quicker in hardest water! What if your tap water's hard! Swan'll burst into eager, upstanding suds 2 times quicker than old-type floating soaps! It'll even give you suds in ice water!

2. Whiter! Pure and mild as imported "100% olive oil" castile! A soap as gentle as a lullabye. As kindly a floating soap as ever gave soothing lather for a baby's tender skin.

3. Lather that's richer, creamier, thicker! Better? Oh lady, wait till you let water touch that big, beautiful cake of Swan! Wait'll you see the billows of lather! Suds that last a whole lot longer.

4. Firmer! Swan lasts and lasts! Often, you can stick your thumb right into old-style floating soap—it's so soft and moist. Not Swan! It's harder. Has much less moisture so you just know it will last and last. Swan won't warp, either.

5. A smoother break! Easy as pie (without knife or string) you break Swan into 2 lovely cakes. Swan's specially designed to look just right as a household bar or two beautiful toilet cakes!

6. Smells cleaner—fresh as a dew-washed daisy! There's something wonderfully bracing and clean and wholesome about the way Swan smells. It never turns rancid.

7. Feels smoother, finer-textured!

8. More real soap for your money. Swan has far less moisture than old-style floating soaps. So you get more real soap! No need to store a supply to dry out. We do it for you.

Shipboard Romance + + + + + +

Sylvia Taylor

(Copyright, 1941)

CHAPTER IV

Jimmy released her abruptly.

"I shouldn't have done that, Doris," he said. "Forget it, will you?"

She was stunned by his tone, his attempt to make his words sound casual. For in that brief kiss he had belonged to her and she knew it. He could not have been unaware of the emotion which surged madly through her heart.

"Jimmy!" she cried. "What's the matter?"

He started moodily out to sea. "I can't tell you."

Although the night was warm, Doris shivered and drew her chiffon scarf closer about her throat. "Why not?" she insisted.

He smiled bitterly. "Suppose I just say that a shipboard romance is too complicated?"

She looked into his handsome, troubled face. Had her intuition been wrong? Had she been a fool to call a casual flirtation, love? Pride came to rescue her wounded vanity.

"I'd better go to bed," she remarked. "It's getting late."

Without replying, he helped her down the steps to the promenade deck.

"Don't bother to go any further," she said, hurt.

"I'm sorry, Doris," he said sincerely, and for a moment she felt the old magnetism pulling her back to him. "I guess I'm no good to any woman," he added.

She did not answer but turned quickly and went to her stateroom. She was grateful for the cool darkness, and Miss Pringle's regular breathing which assured Doris that she was asleep. Doris undressed hurriedly and slipped into her bed.

"What an inexperienced little fool I am," she told herself furiously. "Jimmy had probably carried on many such flirtations with girls who didn't take it so seriously." She scarcely knew him. What was the matter with her?

All her life Doris Newton had used her head. She had been sensible and cheerful. But since that fateful day she had won the five thousand dollars, her personality, as well as her life, seemed entirely altered. She had been living in a dream. Spending her money foolishly, fancying the first man she met would fall madly in love with her. She had been warned about taking such things too hard, yet even now the tears fell silently into her pillow. No matter how Jimmy Allen felt about her, Doris knew that her own emotions were real. It was a fantastic situation, but she loved him. All she could do now was save what pride she had left by not letting him see how much he mattered.

For the next few days Doris avoided Jimmy Allen. She played deck games with the rest of the passengers, took long siestas, and went to bed early at night. She had not told her trouble to Miss Pringle and the older woman did not inquire. The subject of Jimmy was carefully avoided by both until one afternoon there was a knock on their stateroom door.

Miss Pringle took a note from the steward. "It's for you," she said, handing it to Doris.

Doris knew before she opened it that it was from Jimmy. She read it hastily and tossed it into the wastebasket.

"He wants to know why I'm avoiding him?"

Miss Pringle smiled. "Well, why are you?"

"That seems to be the way he wants it."

"Sometimes a woman can have too much pride."

"I can't understand him," Doris confessed.

Miss Pringle sat down on the green chair and looked thoughtfully at her. "Has it ever occurred to you that he might be married?"

"Married . . . ? That could be it! But if he is, why wouldn't he tell me?"

Miss Pringle shrugged. "You didn't ask him, did you?"

"No," Doris said, "but I'm going to. If he's married, that will settle it."

The night was full of the magic of the Caribbean. The tropical moon rose majestically. The stars, white and brilliant, seemed close enough to touch. The warm languor of the air was intoxicating and Doris felt a thread of excitement rising in her heart as she walked through the lounge looking for Jimmy. If he were married, he should have told her. It would be easier to know the truth. Better to realize now that she had no right to his love, and forget, than to go on wondering, hoping for something that could never happen.

He was waiting for her. "I was afraid you wouldn't come," he said. "Let's go on deck."

She saw the eagerness in his eyes, but she deliberately hardened her heart. "I want to ask you something," she said as they settled themselves in their chairs.

"You must think I'm crazy, and I don't blame you."

His wistfulness hurt her. She had never known anyone whose moods changed with such lightning rapidity.

"There's just one thing I want to know," she said seriously.

"I'll tell you if I can," he promised.

"Are you married, Jimmy?"

Instantly his expression changed. The blue eyes grew hard.

"So you know," he said.

She looked at him in surprise. "Know what?"

"About my marriage?"

Her heart sank. "I didn't know anything. That's why I asked you . . ."

A laughing group of young people strolled by, making conversation impossible. When they had gone, Doris rose.

"Aren't you even going to hear my side of it?" he demanded.

"There's nothing more to say. Good-bye Jimmy."

He caught her wrist. "I was going to tell you, Doris, but I've been so awfully upset and confused."

"Well, I know now," she said, fighting back the tears. "It explains a lot of things. I'm only sorry that you didn't tell me sooner."

"But, darling!" The endearment wrung her heart. "She's promised to get a divorce."

She looked at him sadly. "It's no use, Jimmy."

He released her arm. "I'm not sure of anything at the moment," he admitted.

"That's just it." Doris said quietly. "You admit you are not sure of your own feelings, and you are married. That's what makes everything quite impossible, Jimmy . . . If you had only told me!"

"I thought you knew."

"But how could I?" She looked at him in surprise.

He did not reply. Why had fate led her into this hopeless situation? Why couldn't she have loved Roy Johnston, who was free.

She paced the deck restlessly that night. It seemed impossible that her heart could be so full of pain in the midst of this tropical beauty. She had dreamed about this trip through the Caribbean waters but little had she imagined that she would walk the deck alone, while on the same ship, so close and yet so hopelessly far away, was the man she loved. A strange, moody man whose handsome face was indelibly engraved upon her memory.

George Malone's voice interrupted her reverie.

"Good evening, Miss Newton."

"Good evening," she repeated, turning away her tear-filled eyes.

But the man was not deceived. "Is something wrong? Come over here and sit down."

Her mind was a confused jumble of thoughts, impressions, warnings. Miss Pringle had told her that George Malone had been watching her, inquiring about her. She looked sharply at him, but his expression seemed so sympathetic that her suspicion vanished.

"You're not ill?" he inquired.

She tried to laugh. "No, it's not that."

The shrewd gray eyes observed her carefully. "Sometimes it helps to talk things over," he suggested.

Doris shook her head. "I'm afraid I can't discuss this."

"You don't have to tell me," George Malone said. "Of course I realize it's none of my business, but you know it's hard to conceal anything on a ship."

Doris wondered if she and Jimmy had already become common gossip.

"And of course," he added cautiously, "people like Jimmy Allen have even less privacy than the average traveler."

She felt an undercurrent in his tone. "What do you mean?"

"It's fairly obvious that you are in love with him." His voice was smooth.

"I don't care to discuss it," Doris said sharply.

"Perhaps you will, at a later date."

Doris wished that she had not let this situation arise. Jimmy and Miss Pringle had both warned her against George Malone. There was a self-assurance almost aggressiveness in his manner that belied his looks.

"I'm sure I don't know what you mean," she told him. "I don't have to discuss my affairs with anyone!"

"You are very clever, my dear!"

"What do you mean by that?" she demanded, trying to control her anger.

"You used to work in Klane's basement, I believe," George Malone went on. "Naturally that wasn't very pleasant. When you won the radio contest you spent all your money to take this trip, and you chose to come on this particular ship because you knew that Jimmy Allen would be on it."

Anger blazed in her blue eyes. "What are you talking about?"

He shrugged. "There's no use pretending to me that you don't know who Jimmy Allen is!"

Her heart stood still. "Who he is? What do you mean?"

"Jimmy Allen," he said smiling, "is one of the richest men in Chicago. His grandfather died a year ago and left him the entire estate. But of course you wouldn't know, or care about that, would you?"

STATE RECEIVES $4,000 DAILY IN FRANCHISE TAX

Collections Expected To Total Between Four and Five Millions By July 15.

(By International News Service)

COLUMBUS—A stream of franchise tax revenues from foreign and domestic corporations was pouring into the office of State Treasurer Don H. Ebright today at the rate of almost $4,000 an hour.

Collections by the deadline July 15, are expected to run between $4,000,000 and $4,500,000 for the privilege of doing business in Ohio.

Since May 1, Ebright said, collections from domestic corporations total $1,144,000 and from foreign corporations, $244,621. Thus, in the 57 days during which collections have been received, the rate has been about $24,362 a day. It is now over $30,000 per eight hour day.

The peak load, which started this week, is just beginning to make itself felt and the entire department staff has been used to handle the funds.

Domestic corporations are those organized under Ohio law, while foreign corporations are those organized under the law of other states.

Domestic corporations pay one-mill or one-tenth of one percent on the par value of all their issued and outstanding capital stock. Foreign corporations pay the same rate on the ratio of their Ohio stock and plant values to total stock and plant value.

Collections from foreign corporations last year ran to $1,151,000 and domestic corporations to $2,963,000 or a total of $4,114,000. Collections this year may run above 1940 because a number of new corporations have been formed since the defense boom.

About 22,000 domestic and 2,400 foreign corporations pay the tax. Among the largest are Republic Steel at Youngstown, Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, the rubber manufacturing companies at Akron, Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass company at Toledo and numerous firms in the Cleveland industrial area.

HONOR FORMER LODGE OFFICIALS

GALION—For their service as past president and past secretary, respectively, H. K. Miller and R. L. Post, were presented with radios from Galion aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, at the regular lodge meeting Wednesday night.

Further plans for the family picnic to be held July 20 at Greter's lake were announced. One of the features will be a circus act.

Two applications for membership were received. On the last Wednesday of the month, a special class of candidates will be initiated in honor of the treasurer, Alvin Fabian.

ENTERTAINS CLUB

SHELBY—Mrs. Walter Critchfield entertained Shelby Garden club this week at her home. Assisting her were Mrs. George Koch, Mrs. David Kelley and Mrs. Henry Sheets.

THEATERS

Boogie Woogie Rhythm.

Boogie woogie music, such as featured in the current Ohio attraction, "In the Navy," has long been played in the deep south but it remained for three young songwriters, Don Ray, Hughie Prince and Gene dePaul to bring it into nation-wide popularity. Among the outstanding numbers in the picture is "Hula-Ba-Luau," a Hawaiian number adapted to boogie woogie rhythm which the Andrews Sisters sing. Bud Abbott, Lou Costello and Dick Powell head the cast in this nautical farce that also has Claire Dodd.

Freudian Comedy.

Melvyn Douglas and Merle Oberon are blissfully happy in "That Uncertain Feeling," playing at the Madison until they learn that according to the Freudian theory they have no right to be happy. In trying to work off the curse Miss Oberon continues to meet up with a psychoanalyst played by Alan Mowbray and encounters a wild-haired pianist played by Burgess Meredith. Eve Arden and Sig Ruman add to the gaiety of the whole affair. "The Nurse's Secret" with Lee Patrick and Regis Toomey is the companion feature.

Double Duty.

Brian Aherne does double-duty as a co-star with Kay Francis in "The Man Who Lost Himself," a comedy production, opening Friday at the Ritz. He is seen as two characters, Evans, a respectable business man, and Scott, a worthless eccentric, who sees in the discovery of his exact double a way out of his difficulties. Scott installs Evans in his own home where Evans cannot convince anyone that he is Evans and not Scott. Kay Francis plays Mrs. Scott and the cast includes Nils Arther and Sig Ruman. Jack Randall in "Riders From Nowhere," is the second attraction.

Marriage Interrupted.

A legal technicality by which a scrappily married young couple suddenly discover they're not married at all forms the theme of the Carole Lombard-Robert Montgomery vehicle, "Mr. and Mrs. Smith," showing at the Park. The slight alteration in the boundary line of a Western state makes all the trouble and annuls the marriage at a time when the Smiths are having difficulties. Gene Raymond furnishes the third corner of the triangle and the cast includes Lucile Watson, Philip Merivale and Jack Carson.

Murder Mystery.

Richard Arlen and Andy Devine are mixed up with crooks, murder and mystery in "A Dangerous Game," opening Friday at the Majestic. As a pair of detectives sent to solve a double-killing the duo gets mixed up with the dippy inmates of a sanitarium and a romantic widow. Jeanne Kelly plays opposite Arlen and the cast includes George Pembroke and Mira McKinney. Rex Harrison, first seen in "Sidewalks of London," with Charles Laughton is the star of "Missing Ten Days," co-attraction dealing with a young Englishman who suffers amnesia after an airplane crash in Paris.

OLD GOLD LODE YIELDS CHROME

Commercial Deposit Expected To Lead To Development In California.

MARIPOSA, Cal.—(UP)—Discovery of what is believed to be a commercial deposit of chrome ore may lead to new mining activities in Mariposa county in the old Mother Lode gold district.

James Goss of Coulterville filed a location notice on a deposit of chrome ore he had located six miles from Coulterville. It is believed the deposit is the first chrome ore of commercial value to be discovered in Mariposa county.

The discovery was not new to Goss, however. He said he knew of the existence of the deposit more than 20 years ago when a small quantity was tested and the development abandoned as of little commercial value. Goss said he would have been greatly interested then if he had known more about chrome.

Interest in the deposit was revived, Goss said, when "a man came through here looking for chrome ore." Chrome is used for chromium plating, hardening and toughening steel, making stainless steel and for other purposes. Its importance as a defense material is increasing because of an alloy of steel in axle shafts it makes possible the use of smaller and lighter machine parts.

Goss named his claim the "Prince Albert Quartz and Mineral Claim"—after a tobacco can which he used to protect the location notice. "It was raining, he said, "and the can was all I had to protect the notice."

J. W. Warford, Mariposa mining expert, said the discovery indicates a strong possibility that more chrome deposits may be found in the county.

NAMED CHAIRMAN

SHELBY — Mrs. Carl Hipsher was named chairman when the "Bon Tempo" Bridge club was organized this week at her home.

Held In Murder

vestigating the fatal shooting of Charles P. Mattingly, 41, attorney-examiner for the Indiana Public Service commission, are holding Mrs. Caroline Payne, 43, business manager of a Bloomington newspaper, County Prosecutor Floyd E. Cook said he believed jealousy over Mattingly's recent marriage prompted Mrs. Payne to shoot him.

Experts say the age of a rattlesnake cannot be estimated accurately by the number of rattles on his tail because sometimes a snake will acquire three or four buttons, instead of only one, a year, and that a snake seldom attains more than 10 or 12 buttons because added ones usually are broken off.

Moore's Ninth Inning Homer Wins Thriller for Braves

Sport Podge by REX HESS

It takes more than a ten on the first hole to stop Jarrin' Johnny Carr, long-hitting News-Journal A league golfer.

Playing the outside nine at Possum Run Tuesday night in a league match, Carr collected a 10 on Number 10 (par 3), hooking his tee shot into the rough, blasting over the green and over the hill into even worse rough, and sneaking up on the hole from there.

But did that nightmarish beginning throw John off his game? Not so you could notice it.

Swinging away as though nothing had happened, he turned in even par for the next eight holes to come in with 43.

That's the way to come back when
You get a ten on number ten.

Here comes Chief Alex Clowson of the Mansfield Braves into the office wearing a worried look.

"I wonder," says he, "if you wouldn't like to leave those daily batting averages out of the paper.

"I'm convinced some of the boys are worrying about their averages, and have been pressing up at that plate. If they could forget their averages for a while I believe they'd start hitting the way they can hit."

"I'll be very happy to leave the averages out," I tell him. "I think the averages do have interest for the fans, but they can't be interested long if the players aren't hitting.

"And I would rather see the hits on the ball field than in a percentage table."

It'll save me lots of work each day,
Letting those averages slip away.

More than one Mansfield softball player has wondered at times why box scores of games have not appeared on this page, or have been trimmed down to mere line scores.

Some have not been printed because they were never turned in. Others have been so incomplete and otherwise inaccurate they have been worse than valueless.

"Why don't you hop on 'em?" asks Don Cramm, secretary of the Mansfield softball commission.

"You can tell 'em for me that when scores are not turned in at the Y. M. C. A. for us to fix up for the paper, that games will be forfeited, whether they've been played or not."

Majors Resume Flag Race

New York Fans Begin Talk of Subway Series.

By SID FEDER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

TH is the day when even the second guessers have to put the All-Star game back in the cracker barrel to save something for next winter.

Because the big leagues pick up the pennant chases again today and tonight, and from here on, it's "every man for theirself," as they say over in Brooklyn. They're also saying in Flatbush that there's nothing can stop the Dodgers now in the National league.

And, if that's the case—with the daffiness boys leading the Cardinals by three full games—it begins to look like the chances for the first "subway series" in four years are as bright as the nickel you'll need to get from Yankee stadium to Ebbets field.

For, as the American league's eastern clubs begin their third swing through the west, the New York Yankees are the hottest thing to come down the pike since the Yankees were burning up the place a couple of years ago. Riding a nine-game winning streak and 3½ games out in front of the pack, the Bombers from the Bronx wheel out their stuff in St. Louis tonight. They're top-heavy favorites to win this one—which would make it 16 victories in their last 18 outings—so the chief interest centers around whether Joe DiMaggio gets a hit to run his all-time record streak to 49 straight games.

At the same time, Cleveland's second-place Indians pick a soft touch in the Athletics to open their home stand, while Boston's Red Sox bring a four-game winning run into Detroit and Washington invades Chicago. In that Detroit tussle, old Mose Grove, who is running out his string now, will be gunning for the magical 300th victory of his grand career, while at Cleveland the Tribe tries to hit the high road again after only breaking even in its last 12 starts.

The card also finds the Cardinals invading the Polo Grounds to meet the Giants and the Phillies entertaining the Pittsburgh Pirates in Philadelphia.

Most important get-together in the senior circuit, however, has the Cincinnati Reds, who have won three of their last four tussles—two straight against St. Louis—tangling with the Dodgers in Brooklyn under the sun.

Out-Hit Club Takes Commercial Tilt

Commercial league ball clubs tangled last night and when the smoke of battle cleared Mansfield Tire had subdued Farm Tools 13-6, Isaly's defeated Humphryes 21-6 and the N. & W. Coals sank Tappans 8-4.

Miller, Birmelin and Kumsarik sparked the Tires' 13-hit assault while Heston led the losing batsmen with three out of four.

Led by Bogantz with three out of five, Tappan's outhit the winning Coals eight to six but wound up on the short end of the score. Botzer, of the Coals hit the lone circuit clout of the tilt.

Appleman set Humphryes down with six bingles leading his own club with three out of five times at bat. Shivinski topped the losers attack with two out of three.

NORWALK NINE MEETS WILLARD V. F. W. CLUB

Shooting for their seventh straight win the Willard V. F. W. ball club will tangle with the Norwalk nine, at Norwalk today at 8:3 p. m.

CHARLES MILL GROUP MEETS TOMORROW

Charles Mill Lake Sportsmen's club will hold a regular meeting at the Mansfield municipal court room tomorrow evening at 7:30. Tom Warren, district game management agent, will be present and is expected to give a talk on duck hunting.

Joe Denies All Charges

Makes Few Statements of His Own About Marva.

CHICAGO—(INS)—Joe Louis today was on record with a denial of all his wife's divorce charges, along with denials of some charges she didn't make, in an answer to her petition filed in circuit court.

He denied that he ever socked her or stepped on her ankle as she claimed; he denied that he has property worth $800,000 or that he makes $250,000 a year; and also denied that he had ever said he didn't want a child, although her petition didn't mention this.

"This boy admits nothing except that he is heavyweight champion of the world," Joe's Chicago attorney, William H. Temple, declared.

The champion also stated his wife had not been kind and affectionate to him; that she had an income of $300 a month from an apartment building he bought for her, an allowance of $100 a week, and that he paid bills for her of $4,000 to $6,000 a year, besides giving her "occasional gifts" up to $5,000.

Homers Help As Loans Win

Providents Score Easy Victory at Ashland.

With Bucky Holda and Ev Jocha each clouting a home run, the Mansfield Provident Loan girls softball club won an easy 15 to 5 victory at Ashland last night.

Ev also tagged a double and Donna Schuster crashed through with a pair of two-base blows as the Providents rang up a six-run rally in the fourth, counted four runs in the third, and three in the sixth.

LaVonna Schaeffer held the Ashland club to five hits.

Saturday evening the Providents go to Lorain for a game at 5:30 with the Lorain All-Stars, and they return home for a Sunday game at 2:30 with the Elyria Frank's Bakeries.

Colonels Make Flag Race Hot

(By Associated Press)

The Louisville Colonels lost their ace pitcher two weeks ago, but you'd never suspect it from a look at the American association race.

The Boston Red Sox recalled Tex Hughson after he had won seven games and lost one for Louisville. But instead of faltering since then the colonels have moved into high gear and are nipping at the heels of pacesetting Minneapolis.

Kansas City fell before the Colonels again last night, 3 to 1, in a tight game, each team getting seven hits. Minneapolis, meanwhile, split two slugfests with Toledo, the Hens winning the twilight game, 9 to 4, and the Millers the second, 10 to 5.

Bill Swift pitched St. Paul to a 3 to 1 victory over Columbus, yielding only six hits and no runs after the first inning. Ray Starr registered his 14th victory in hurling Indianapolis to a 6 to 2 victory over hapless Milwaukee.

Seeks Second Ohio Title

THELMA LINSTER

Winner of the Ohio women's public links championship last year at Akron, Thelma Linster of Mansfield's Possum Run club will be after her second straight crown when the tournament is held Saturday and Sunday at the Twin Rivers golf club, Dublin road, Columbus. Several Mansfield golfers also expect to compete in the state men's pub-links tournament Saturday and Sunday on the Dublin-Arlington course.

* * * * *

Mansfielder Defends Her Title In Pub-Links Joust

By DON SMITH
(United Press Sports Writer.)

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—The guy and gal around the corner who dash out to a public course for a round of golf whenever they get a chance, will have their "day" Saturday and Sunday.

Those are the dates when the pay as you play golfers, the nickel and dime brigade or what have you, will converge on two Columbus courses for the men's and women's Ohio public links tournaments.

Already 67 entries for the men's tourney have been received by Ray Pennell, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio Public Links Golf association, who predicts a total entry list of close to 160 before the firing starts in the 12th annual meet.

Only in its third year, the women's tourney has drawn 53 players with a total of 65 expected by Saturday.

Byron Hunt, Columbus shipping clerk, will defend the title he won last year at Akron and Thelma Linster of Mansfield, 1940 women's champion, will make the trip in an effort to score her second straight tourney triumph.

Miss Neoma Copic, blond Toledo feminine star who captured the first women's tournament, has joined a private club and is ineligible for competition.

Three former winners in the men's tournament will be on hand to block Hunt's title defense. Heading the list of returning title holders is Tom Radican, the "Singing Fireman" from Cleveland who won the honors in 1937.

The other two champions are Paul Segerlund, Akron machinist, 1936 winner, and Jay Krochmalny of Toledo, 1938 winner.

Bill Santor of Youngstown, who lost to Hunt in the title playoff last year, has entered along with such standouts as Ralph Chiaverni, Toledo district champion; Henry Pabian of Steubenville, who qualified for the National Open two years in a row; Joe Mayer of Mansfield, who finished fourth in last year's tourney, and Joe Patton of Cincinnati.

Both tournament champions will be determined on medal play with the men playing 72 holes and the women going 36 holes.

Then men sharpshooters will play on the Dublin-Arlington course, a layout which will be increased to 6,600 yards for the tournament. It is a par 72 course and heavily trapped.

The feminine swingers will play at the Twin Rivers golf club which has a short but tricky course.

The low 18 finishers in the men's tourney will be eligible to compete in the state amateur tournament at Toledo, July 14.

Seamless Tube Takes Crown

Wins First-Half Title In Shelby Softball.

SHELBY—Ohio Seamless Tube company won the first round championship of the Shelby Softball league by defeating Shelby Salesbook company, 3 to 2, in a 10-inning game last night at the municipal water company field.

Bob Laubie pitching for the Tube company gave six hits, walked two players and struck out one player.

The winning run was scored by Laubie in the first half of the tenth inning. Laubie got on base through a fielder's choice, stole second base and came in on a hit made by Claybaugh.

The largest crowd to witness any of the softball games played here so far, estimated at 500 persons, was present.

The second round games in the league will get underway beginning next Monday night when the Cycle company plays the Salesbook company at 6 p. m.

BARNES CLUB PLAYS AT SHELBY FRIDAY

Naturals Meet In Semi-Play

Sluggers and Stylists Mix In State Tourney.

AKRON—(AP)—Two natural battles were on tap today in the semi-final round of the annual Ohio state women's golf tournament, with slugger meeting slugger and stylist playing stylist.

The upper-bracket match paired the tourney's longest hitters, Mrs. James R. Platt, Jr., of Dayton, and Neoma Copic of Toledo, while Janet Shock of Dayton, the defending champion, and Mrs. Linton Fallis of Toledo, both form exponents, clashed in the lower bracket.

The four teed off for another 18 holes after the greatest quarter-final matches in the 22-year history of the tournament.

Miss Shock had the hardest time advancing, being carried to the home green to turn back the challenge of Mary Ann Herron, 19-year-old Akron star.

Mrs. Platt, tournament medalist, stood off 20-year-old Martha Dakin of Lebanon, to earn her advantage while Miss Copic, onetime holder of the Ohio state public links championship, unleashed a barrage of sub-par golf to down Dorothy Gardner of Steubenville, 2 and 1.

The gray-haired Mrs. Fallis, winner of the Ohio diadem in 1939, outgamed Miss Isabel Ogilvie, Cleveland's champion, 2 and 1.

The blond Copic girl staged the greatest rally of yesterday. Battled on even terms by the Steubenville beauty for 12 holes, she cut loose with two pars and an eagle on the 13th, 14th and 15th to go dormie three and clinch the victory. Miss Gardner was a pre-meet favorite.

The semi-finalists are old rivals. Miss Shock took a big step toward her first Ohio state championship here in 1938 when she scored a 19-hole decision over Mrs. Fallis. The next year the Toledoan beat her 2 and 1 in the semi-finals at Columbus.

Mrs. Platt and Miss Copic have met once, the Toledo girl gaining a 2 and 1 quarter final verdict at Toledo.

Akron Lassie Trys For Second Upset

INDIANAPOLIS —(AP)— Miss Shirley Fry, 14-year-old bundle of energy from Akron, O., was shooting for her second big upset victory of the Western Tennis tournament women's singles today in a quarter-final match against second-seeded Dorothy Bundy, Santa Monica, Calif.

The Ohio youngster, a 6-4, 9-7 victor yesterday over Doris Hart, Miami, seeded No. 5, was paired against Miss Bundy in the last of the quarter-final meetings.

The only other upset in yesterday's play on the Woodstock Country Club courts was George Ball's conquest of seventh seeded Gardner Larned of Chicago. The El Paso, Tex., boy gained the semi-final with a 2-6, 8-6, 6-1 performance.

Fight Results

MILWAUKEE — Pat Carroll, 142½, Detroit, and Savior Canadeo, 145½, Chicago, fought to a draw.

Five Run Rally Staged By Mansfield Club

Game Pulled Out of Fire After Birds Appear To Have It Won

GRAF MOORE took a leaf from Ted Williams' major league all-star game book last night to pole a game-winning, ninth-frame home run high and far over the Fairground left field wall to give the Mansfield Braves a 7 to 5 decision over the Fostoria Red Birds.

Moore's clout, with Harry Siegbert on first, climaxed a five-run rally in the ninth after the Red Birds appeared to have the game sewed up at 5 to 2 and many of the customers were already on their way home.

No, the outlook wasn't brilliant for the Mansfield nine last night. They'd passed up several scoring chances, particularly in the sixth frame when they filled the sacks, and in the seventh when Bill Salem and Fred Wolpert led off with singles and no one got past second base.

Dusseau, ace hurler of the Birds, was far from top form, but he'd managed to get out of several tough holes and there was no indication that the Braves were going to catch up with him at that late stage in the ball game.

But Freddy Wolpert, leading off in the final frame, slapped out a ringing single, and Bobby Ankrum did likewise. Wolpert scored when Dick Morse slapped a hot-shot single down the third base line, and Ankrum went to third.

Tim Mangan bounced out to second, Ankrum holding third. Ankrum tallied as Eddie Mutryn grounded out to short, and Morse went to third.

Then with two out Harry Siegbert grounded to Shortstop Jack Buckamier, but Buck, with plenty of time to make the play, threw wild to first and Siegbert drew a life with Morse scampering home with the tying run.

This was too much for the nervous system of Hurler Dusseau. He grooved one for Moore, and Graf obliged with his home run smack, and all the remaining patrons of the game went home happy.

In the fourth inning Eddie Mutryn rapped his 12th circuit blow of the year after Tim Mangan had doubled, driving in two runs to tie the score for the moment.

But the Red Birds, in their hottest streak of the season, kept pecking away at Wolpert's offerings for a run in each of the fifth, sixth and seventh stanzas and seemed on their way to victory.

Dewey Stover, manager of the Braves last year, surprised his Mansfield friends by showing up at the yard in the blue uniform of an umpire.

Noted for his many run-ins with the boys in blue in the past, Dewey had all the answers ready for anyone who might question his guessing on balls and strikes last night, but no one stepped forward to test his new debate line. Dewey's work was good enough it didn't call for arguments.

Tonight the Braves go to Findlay, and tomorrow night they meet the Oilers at the Fairground in a ladies' night setto when the feminine fans will be admitted for one dime each.

Guldahl Hot In Tourney

Enters Third Round of P. G. A. Against Nelson.

DENVER — (AP) — Texas Ralph Guldahl, of the sloping shoulders and intense concentration, is the man that hunch players in the galleries are talking about at the 24th P. G. A. tournament.

So far Guldahl is seven under par for 65 holes, counting the qualifying trials.

Nelson, of course, can't be counted out of his second straight title, but he hasn't set any fairways afire yet. He had to go the full 18-hole distance in winning both his matches yesterday.

It was a day of 48 man-to-man skirmishes vivid with drama, heartaches, electric finishes and the high tension tingle of four extra-hole battles, one for 23 holes involving Medalist Sam Snead of Hot Springs, Va.

Snead was two holes behind Earl Martin, Inglewood, Calif., unknown, when he collared him on the 17th and 18th despite shaky golf. Snead finally pinched Martin off on the fifth overtime green.

Two former P. G. A. champions —Henry Picard of Oklahoma City and Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y.—didn't go far. Phil Greenwald, a stranger to western galleries from Menominee Falls, Wis., outpointed Picard 4 and 3, and the handsome veteran Horton Smith distilled a 1-up antidote for "little poison" Runyan.

Other prominent victims in yesterday's carnage were Jimmy Demaret, Dick Metz, Jimmy Thomson, Ed Dudley and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, runnerup to Snead for the medal.

Start "Last Chance" Series

Reds and Dodgers Open Three Game Battle.

BROOKLYN—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds and Brooklyn Dodgers today open a three-game series which will just about determine whether the world champions of 1940 will retain a chance for a third National league pennant or become also-rans.

Bucky Walters, who has a 2-2 record against the Dodgers, may be Manager Bill McKechnie's pitching choice against Brooklyn's Hugh Casey, big righthander whose record of nine victories against five losses include four triumphs over the Reds in as many meetings. Walters will be after his 11th victory in 17 starts.

Although both Cincinnati and Brooklyn have won two of their last 47 games, the Redlegs have failed to reduce an 11-game deficit incurred by poor play during the first month.

Considering the sizzling pace of the Dodgers, it's almost foolhardy to talk of a clean sweep for last year's champion..., but if they can get it, Cincinnati will still be a pennant contender.

FELLER STARTS

Feller Starts Second Half

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Well-rested after three days of vacation, the Cleveland Indians start the second half of their American league schedule tonight at the Stadium with Philadelphia providing the opposition.

It will be Bob Feller night, with the Iowa fireballer going after his 17th victory. Young Phil Marchildon has been named to hurl for the Athletics.

Feller will be honored by the city's sandlotters and 4,000 of them will be guests of the Cleveland club. Bob also will receive an award as "player of 1940."

With 77 games behind them the Indians trail the Yankees by 3½ games.

Gun Club Holds Registered Shoot

The Mansfield Gun club will hold a twilight registered shoot today at the range three miles west of Mansfield on Route 30S at 5 p. m.

The shoot will consist of a 16 yard range with handicap targets, also practice targets and doubles.

If 15 shoot the program, three trophies will be awarded under the Lewis class system.

Other registered shoots are scheduled for July 24 and August 7.

MAKE RECORD SALE

WOOSTER—(AP)—Wayne county today reported the largest Guernsey cow sale in history, with 68 going to Sheffield Farms, Inc., of Pompton, N. J. Ward Ramseyer of nearby Smithville made the sale for more than $11,000.

SPORTS GOSSIP

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK — (The Special News Service) — Branch Rickey, who'll positively quit the Cardinals when his contract is up, is trying to decide whether to remain in baseball or go with a big insurance company (at more than the $50,000 per the Cards pay him). . . . When Blimp Phelps refused to go west with the Dodgers, the front office not only suspended and fined him, but put a dick on his trail to discover how much time the oiling Babe spent in bed. Sherlock reported Phelps was a regular in the hotel lobby. . . . Umpire Bill Summers says he never saw Bob Feller have so much stuff as in the all-star game. . . . Some of the boys are wondering why Mike Jacobs doesn't put on Billy Conn and his pop-in-law in Madison Square Garden.

HE'S BACK AGAIN

Ted Williams was the hero,
Claude Passeau was the goat,
But Vaughan was the forgotten man.
According to the vote.

For though he slammed two o'er the fence
And kept the big crowd in suspense
And caused old Frankie Frisch to wince, (x)
Poor Arky ain't been heard of since.

BUSY MAN'S NEWSPAPER.

Giants believe they have best night game record in majors—11 wins, three losses, one tie since they began the nocturnal business last year. . . . Old Jack Johnson now running a whooping juice jernt in Detroit. . . . Ritchie Lemos collected only two yards and a half (Ed. Note: $250) for winning the NBA featherweight title from Pete Scalzo. . . . Football Coach Carl Snavely put his team in the lead by firing an ace in Ithaca division of the Peter Dawson national ringer tournament.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR.

DENVER DIVOT.

Tipul, Mayer Hit Best Ball of 31

Vin Tipul and Joe Mayer paced Westinghouse golfers in best-ball play last evening at Possum Run course with a card of 31, five under par.

Other par-breaking cards were: Carr and Frank 32, Hanawalt and Walters, 33, J. Kleshinski, and G. Kleshinski, 34, Zeides and Snyder, 34, Bogner and Kushin, 35, Croskey and Davis, 35, Kavanaugh and Bachman 35.

Moore's Ninth Inning Homer Wins Thriller for Braves

Sport Podge by REX HESS

It takes more than a ten on the first hole to stop Jarrin' Johnny Carr, long-hitting News-Journal A league golfer.

Playing the outside nine at Possum Run Tuesday night in a league match, Carr collected a 10 on Number 10 (par 3), hooking his tee shot into the rough, blasting over the green and over the hill into even worse rough, and sneaking up on the hole from there.

But did that nightmarish beginning throw John off his game? Not so you could notice it.

Swinging away as though nothing had happened, he turned in even par for the next eight holes to come in with 43.

That's the way to come back when
You get a ten on number ten.

Here comes Chief Alex Clowson of the Mansfield Braves into the office wearing a worried look.

"I wonder," says he, "if you wouldn't like to leave those daily batting averages out of the paper.

"I'm convinced some of the boys are worrying about their averages, and have been pressing up at that plate. If they could forget their averages for a while I believe they'd start hitting the way they can hit."

"I'll be very happy to leave the averages out," I tell him. "I think the averages do have interest for the fans, but they can't be interested long if the players aren't hitting.

"And I would rather see the hits on the ball field than in a percentage table."

It'll save me lots of work each day,
Letting those averages slip away.

More than one Mansfield softball player has wondered at times why box scores of games have not appeared on this page, or have been trimmed down to mere line scores.

Some have not been printed because they were never turned in. Others have been so incomplete and otherwise inaccurate they have been worse than valueless.

"Why don't you hop on 'em?" asks Don Cramm, secretary of the Mansfield softball commission.

"You can tell 'em for me that when scores are not turned in at the Y. M. C. A. for us to fix up for the paper, that games will be forfeited, whether they've been played or not."

Majors Resume Flag Race

New York Fans Begin Talk of Subway Series.

By SID FEDER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

THIS is the day when even the second guessers have to put the All-Star game back in the cracker barrel to save something for next winter.

Because the big leagues pick up the pennant chases again today and tonight, and from here on, it's "every man for theirself," as they say over in Brooklyn. They're also saying in Flatbush that there's nothing can stop the Dodgers now in the National league.

And, if that's the case—with the daffiness boys leading the Cardinals by three full games—it begins to look like the chances for the first "subway series" in four years are as bright as the nickel you'll need to get from Yankee stadium to Ebbets field.

For, as the American league's eastern clubs begin their third swing through the west, the New York Yankees are the hottest thing to come down the pike since the Yankees were burning up the place a couple of years ago. Riding a nine-game winning streak and 3½ games out in front of the pack, the Bombers from the Bronx wheel out their stuff in St. Louis tonight. They're top-heavy favorites to win this one—which would make it 16 victories in their last 18 outings—so the chief interest centers around whether Joe DiMaggio gets a hit to run his all-time record streak to 49 straight games.

At the same time, Cleveland's second-place Indians pick a soft touch in the Athletics to open their home stand, while Boston's Red Sox bring a four-game winning run into Detroit and Washington invades Chicago. In that Detroit tussle, old Mose Grove, who is running out his string now, will be gunning for the magical 300th victory of his grand career, while at Cleveland the Tribe tries to hit the high road again after only breaking even in its last 12 starts.

The card also finds the Cardinals invading the Polo Grounds to meet the Giants and the Phillies entertaining the Pittsburgh Pirates in Philadelphia.

Most important get-together in the senior circuit, however, has the Cincinnati Reds, who have won three of their last four tussles—two straight against St. Louis—tangling with the Dodgers in Brooklyn under the sun.

Out-Hit Club Takes Commercial Tilt

Commercial league ball clubs tangled last night and when the smoke of battle cleared Mansfield Tire had subdued Farm Tools 13-6, Isaly's defeated Humphryes 21-6 and the N. & W. Coals sank Tappans 8-4.

Miller, Birmelin and Kumisarik sparked the Tires' 13-hit assault while Heston led the losing batsmen with three out of four.

Led by Bogantz with three out of five, Tappan's outhit the winning Coals eight to six but wound up on the short end of the score. Botzer, of the Coals hit the lone circuit clout of the tilt.

Appleman set Humphryes down with six bingles leading his own club with three out of five times at bat. Shivinski topped the losers attack with two out of three.

Joe Denies All Charges

Makes Few Statements of His Own About Marva.

CHICAGO—(INS)—Joe Louis today was on record with a denial of all his wife's divorce charges, along with denials of some charges she didn't make, in an answer to her petition filed in circuit court.

He denied that he ever socked her or stepped on her ankle as she claimed; he denied that he has property worth $800,000 or that he makes $250,000 a year; and also denied that he had ever said he didn't want a child, although her petition didn't mention this.

"This boy admits nothing except that he is heavyweight champion of the world," Joe's Chicago attorney, William H. Temple, declared.

The champion also stated his wife had not been kind and affectionate to him; that she had an income of $300 a month from an apartment building he bought for her, an allowance of $100 a week, and that he paid bills for her of $4,000 to $6,000 a year, besides giving her "occasional gifts" up to $5,000.

* * *

Homers Help As Loans Win

Providents Score Easy Victory at Ashland.

With Bucky Holda and Ev Jocha each clouting a home run, the Mansfield Provident Loan girls softball club won an easy 15 to 5 victory at Ashland last night.

Ev also tagged a double and Donna Schuster crashed through with a pair of two-base blows as the Providents rang up a six-run rally in the fourth, counted four runs in the third, and three in the sixth.

LaVonna Schaeffer held the Ashland club to five hits.

Saturday evening the Providents go to Lorain for a game at 5:30 with the Lorain All-Stars, and they return home for a Sunday game at 2:30 with the Elyria Frank's Bakeries.

Colonels Make Flag Race Hot

(By Associated Press)

The Louisville Colonels lost their ace pitcher two weeks ago, but you'd never suspect it from a look at the American association race.

The Boston Red Sox recalled Tex Hughson after he had won seven games and lost one for Louisville. But instead of faltering since then the colonels have moved into high gear and are nipping at the heels of pacesetting Minneapolis.

Kansas City fell before the Colonels again last night, 3 to 1, in a tight game, each team getting seven hits. Minneapolis, meanwhile, split two slugfests with Toledo, the Hens winning the twilight game, 9 to 4, and the Millers the second, 10 to 5.

Bill Swift pitched St. Paul to a 3 to 1 victory over Columbus, yielding only six hits and no runs after the first inning. Ray Starr registered his 14th victory in hurling Indianapolis to a 6 to 2 victory over hapless Milwaukee.

Seeks Second Ohio Title

THELMA LINSTER

Winner of the Ohio women's public links championship last year at Akron, Thelma Linster of Mansfield's Possum Run club will be after her second straight crown when the tournament is held Saturday and Sunday at the Twin Rivers golf club, Dublin road, Columbus. Several Mansfield golfers also expect to compete in the state men's pub-links tournament Saturday and Sunday on the Dublin-Arlington course.

Mansfielder Defends Her Title In Pub-Links Joust

By DON SMITH
(United Press Sports Writer.)

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—The guy and gal around the corner who dash out to a public course for a round of golf whenever they get a chance, will have their "day" Saturday and Sunday.

Those are the dates when the pay as you play golfers, the nickel and dime brigade or what have you, will converge on two Columbus courses for the men's and women's Ohio public links tournaments.

Already 67 entries for the men's tourney have been received by Ray Pennell, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio Public Links Golf association, who predicts a total entry list of close to 160 before the firing starts in the 12th annual meet.

Only in its third year, the women's tourney has drawn 53 players with a total of 65 expected by Saturday.

Byron Hunt, Columbus shipping clerk, will defend the title he won last year at Akron and Thelma Linster of Mansfield, 1940 women's champion, will make the trip in an effort to score her second straight tourney triumph.

Miss Neoma Copic, blond Toledo feminine star who captured the first women's tournament, has joined a private club and is ineligible for competition.

Three former winners in the men's tournament will be on hand to block Hunt's title defense. Heading the list of returning title holders is Tom Radican, the "Singing Fireman" from Cleveland who won the honors in 1937.

The other two champions are Paul Segerlund, Akron machinist, 1936 winner, and Jay Krochmalny of Toledo, 1938 winner.

Bill Santor of Youngstown, who lost to Hunt in the title playoff last year, has entered along with such standouts as Ralph Chiaverni, Toledo district champion; Henry Pabian of Steubenville, who qualified for the National Open two years in a row; Joe Mayer of Mansfield, who finished fourth in last year's tourney, and Joe Patton of Cincinnati.

Both tournament champions will be determined on medal play with the men playing 72 holes and the women going 36 holes.

Then men sharpshooters will play on the Dublin-Arlington course, a layout which will be increased to 6,600 yards for the tournament. It is a par 72 course and heavily trapped.

The feminine swingers will play at the Twin Rivers golf club which has a short but tricky course.

The low 18 finishers in the men's tourney will be eligible to compete in the state amateur tournament at Toledo, July 14.

Seamless Tube Takes Crown

Wins First-Half Title In Shelby Softball.

SHELBY—Ohio Seamless Tube company won the first round championship of the Shelby Softball league by defeating Shelby Salesbook company, 3 to 2, in a 10-inning game last night at the municipal water company field.

The Salesbook company tied the score in the fifth inning, 2 to 2, when Stevens hit a home run with Felters on base.

Snooker on the mound for the Salesbook company allowed the Tube company players two hits, four bases on balls and struck out one player.

Bob Laubie pitching for the Tube company gave six hits, walked two players and struck out one player.

The winning run was scored by Laubie in the first half of the tenth inning. Laubie got on base through a fielder's choice, stole second base and came in on a hit made by Claybaugh.

The largest crowd to witness any of the softball games played here so far, estimated at 500 persons, was present.

The second round games in the league will get underway beginning next Monday night when the Cycle company plays the Salesbook company at 6 p. m.

BARNES CLUB PLAYS AT SHELBY FRIDAY

Naturals Meet In Semi-Play

Sluggers and Stylists Mix In State Tourney.

AKRON—(AP)—Two natural battles were on tap today in the semi-final round of the annual Ohio state women's golf tournament, with slugger meeting slugger and stylist playing stylist.

The upper-bracket match paired the tourney's longest hitters, Mrs. James R. Platt, jr., of Dayton, and Neoma Copic of Toledo, while Janet Shock of Dayton, the defending champion, and Mrs. Linton Fallis of Toledo, both form exponents, clashed in the lower bracket.

The four teed off for another 18 holes after the greatest quarter-final matches in the 22-year history of the tournament.

Miss Shock had the hardest time advancing, being carried to the home green to turn back the challenge of Mary Ann Herron, 19-year-old Akron star.

Mrs. Platt, tournament medalist, stood off 20-year-old Martha Dakin of Lebanon, to earn her advantage while Miss Copic, one-time holder of the Ohio state public links championship, unleashed a barrage of sub-par golf to down Dorothy Gardner of Steubenville, 2 and 1.

The gray-haired Mrs. Fallis, winner of the Ohio diadem in 1939, outgamed Miss Isabel Ogilvie, Cleveland's champion, 2 and 1.

The blond Copic girl staged the greatest rally of yesterday. Battled on even terms by the Steubenville beauty for 12 holes, she cut loose with two pars and an eagle on the 13th, 14th and 15th to go dormie three and clinch the victory. Miss Gardner was a pre-meet favorite.

The semi-finalists are old rivals. Miss Shock took a big step toward her first Ohio state championship here in 1938 when she scored a 19-hole decision over Mrs. Fallis. The next year the Toledoan beat her 2 and 1 in the semi-finals at Columbus.

Mrs. Platt and Miss Copic have met once, the Toledo girl gaining a 2 and 1 quarter final verdict at Toledo.

Akron Lassie Trys For Second Upset

INDIANAPOLIS —(AP)— Miss Shirley Fry, 14-year-old bundle of energy from Akron, O., was shooting for her second big upset victory of the Western Tennis tournament women's singles today in a quarter-final match against second-seeded Dorothy Bundy, Santa Monica, Calif.

The Ohio youngster, a 6-4, 9-7 victor yesterday over Doris Hart, Miami, seeded No. 5, was paired against Miss Bundy in the last of the quarter-final meetings.

The only other upset in yesterday's play on the Woodstock Country Club courts was George Ball's conquest of seventh seeded Gardner Larned of Chicago. The El Paso, Tex., boy gained the semi-final with a 2-6, 8-6, 6-1 performance.

Top seeded Don McNeill of Oklahoma City downed Jack McLeod, Indianapolis, 6-1, 6-2.

Five Run Rally Staged By Mansfield Club

Game Pulled Out of Fire After Birds Appear To Have It Won

GRAF MOORE took a leaf from Ted Williams' major league all-star game book last night to pole a game-winning, ninth-frame home run high and far over the Fairground left field wall to give the Mansfield Braves a 7 to 5 decision over the Fostoria Red Birds.

Moore's clout, with Harry Siegbert on first, climaxed a five-run rally in the ninth after the Red Birds appeared to have the game sewed up at 5 to 2 and many of the customers were already on their way home.

No, the outlook wasn't brilliant for the Mansfield nine last night. They'd passed up several scoring chances, particularly in the sixth frame when they filled the sacks, and in the seventh when Bill Salem and Fred Wolpert led off with singles and no one got past second base.

Dusseau, ace hurler of the Birds, was far from top form, but he'd managed to get out of several tough holes and there was no indication that the Braves were going to catch up with him at that late stage in the ball game.

But Freddy Wolpert, leading off in the final frame, slapped out a ringing single, and Bobby Ankrum did likewise. Wolpert scored when Dick Morse slapped a hot-shot single down the third base line, and Ankrum went to third.

Tim Mangan bounced out to second, Ankrum holding third. Ankrum tallied as Eddie Mutryn grounded out to short, and Morse went to third.

Then with two out Harry Siegbert grounded to Shortstop Jack Buckamier, but Buck, with plenty of time to make the play, threw wild to first and Siegbert drew a life with Morse scampering home with the tying run.

This was too much for the nervous system of Hurler Dusseau. He grooved one for Moore, and Graf obliged with his home run smack, and all the remaining patrons of the game went home happy.

In the fourth inning Eddie Mutryn rapped his 12th circuit blow of the year after Tim Mangan had doubled, driving in two runs to tie the score for the moment.

But the Red Birds, in their hottest streak of the season, kept pecking away at Wolpert's offerings for a run in each of the fifth, sixth and seventh stanzas and seemed on their way to victory.

Dewey Stover, manager of the Braves last year, surprised his Mansfield friends by showing up at the yard in the blue uniform of an umpire.

Noted for his many run-ins with the boys in blue in the past, Dewey had all the answers ready for anyone who might question his guessing on balls and strikes last night, but no one stepped forward to test his new debate line. Dewey's work was good enough it didn't call for arguments.

* * *

Tonight the Braves go to Findlay, and tomorrow night they meet the Oilers at the Fairground in a ladies' night setto when the feminine fans will be admitted for one dime each.

Guldahl Hot In Tourney

Enters Third Round of P. G. A. Against Nelson.

DENVER — (AP) — Texas Ralph Guldahl, of the sloping shoulders and intense concentration, is the man that hunch players in the galleries are talking about at the 24th P. G. A. tournament.

Guldahl opened today's 36-hole third round against refending champion Byron Nelson and the 1940 winner from Toledo, Ohio, is up against a veteran whose golf has been sizzling.

So far Guldahl is seven under par for 65 holes, counting the qualifying trials.

Nelson, of course, can't be counted out of his second straight title, but he hasn't set any fairways afire yet. He had to go the full 18-hole distance in winning both his matches yesterday.

It was a day of 48 man-to-man skirmishes vivid with drama, heartaches, electric finishes and the high tension tingle of four extra-hole battles, one for 23 holes involving Medalist Sam Snead of Hot Springs, Va.

Snead was two holes behind Earl Martin, Inglewood, Calif., unknown, when he collared him on the 17th and 18th despite shaky golf. Snead finally pinched Martin off on the fifth overtime green.

Two former P. G. A. champions —Henry Picard of Oklahoma City and Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y.—didn't go far. Phil Greenwald, a stranger to western galleries from Menominee Falls, Wis., outpointed Picard 4 and 3, and the handsome veteran Horton Smith distilled a 1-up antidote for "little poison" Runyan.

Other prominent victims in yesterday's carnage were Jimmy Demaret, Dick Metz, Jimmy Thomson, Ed Dudley and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, runnerup to Snead for the medal.

Start "Last Chance" Series

Reds and Dodgers Open Three Game Battle.

BROOKLYN—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds and Brooklyn Dodgers today open a three-game series which will just about determine whether the world champions of 1940 will retain a chance for a third National league pennant or become also-rans.

Bucky Walters, who has a 2-2 record against the Dodgers, may be Manager Bill McKechnie's pitching choice against Brooklyn's Hugh Casey, big righthander whose record of nine victories against five losses include four triumphs over the Reds in as many meetings. Walters will be after his 11th victory in 17 starts.

Although both Cincinnati and Brooklyn have won two of their last 47 games, the Redlegs have failed to reduce an 11-game deficit incurred by poor play during the first month.

Considering the sizzling pace of the Dodgers, it's almost foolhardy to talk of a clean sweep for last year's champions, but if they can get it, Cincinnati will still be a pennant contender.

FELLER STARTS

Feller Starts Second Half

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Well-rested after three days of vacation, the Cleveland Indians start the second half of their American league schedule tonight at the Stadium with Philadelphia providing the opposition.

It will be Bob Feller night, with the Iowa fireballer going after his 17th victory. Young Phil Marchildon has been named to hurl for the Athletics.

Feller will be honored by the city's sandlotters and 4,000 of them will be guests of the Cleveland club. Bob also will receive an award as "player of 1940."

With 77 games behind them the Indians trail the Yankees by 3½ games.

Gun Club Holds Registered Shoot

The Mansfield Gun club will hold a twilight registered shoot today at the range three miles west of Mansfield on Route 30S at 5 p. m.

* * *

The shoot will consist of a 16 yard range with handicap targets, also practice targets and doubles.

If 15 shoot the program, three trophies will be awarded under the Lewis class system.

Other registered shoots are scheduled for July 24 and August 7.

MAKE RECORD SALE

WOOSTER—(AP)—Wayne county today reported the largest Guernsey cow sale in history, with 68 going to Sheffield Farms, Inc., of Pompton, N. J. Ward Ramseyer of nearby Smithville made the sale for more than $11,000.

SPORTS GOSSIP

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK — (The Special News Service) — Branch Rickey, who'll positively quit the Cardinals when his contract is up, is trying to decide whether to remain in baseball or go with a big insurance company (at more than the $50,000 per the Cards pay him). . . . When Blimp Phelps refused to go west with the Dodgers, the front office not only suspended and fined him, but put a dick on his trail to discover how much time the ailing Babe spent in bed. Sherlock reported Phelps was a regular in the hotel lobby. . . . Umpire Bill Summers says he never saw Bob Feller have so much stuff as in the all-star game. . . . Some of the boys are wondering why Mike Jacobs doesn't put on Billy Conn and his pop-in-law in Madison Square Garden.

But Vaughan was the forgotten man.

And kept the big crowd in suspense
And caused old Frankie Frisch to wince, (x)

BUSY MAN'S NEWSPAPER.

Giants believe they have best night game record in majors—11 wins, three losses, one tie since they began the nocturnal business last year. . . . Old Jack Johnson now running a whooping juice jernt in Detroit. . . . Ritchie Lemos collected only two yards and a half (Ed. PAM— "That Old Sweetheart of Mine!" By A. W. Brewerton

AN OLD SWEETHEART OF COLONEL CAREY! IMAGINE THAT! OH, I WONDER IF THAT'S WHY HE NEVER MARRIED—HE KEPT ON CARING FOR HER?
LATER
NEVER THOUGHT OF YOUR GRUMPY OLD BOSS AS A ROMEO, DID YOU? WELL, GUESS I WASN'T MUCH OF ONE, AT THAT! THE WARRENS BELONGED TO THE BEST SET BACK IN OUR LITTLE VILLAGE. JOHN WARREN, MRS. BLAINS FATHER, THREW ME NOT A LITTLE LEGAL WORK WHEN—
7-10
---I WAS A STRUGGLING YOUNG LAWYER — I HAD A HARD TIME YESTERDAY MAKING THEM ACCEPT ANY HELP FROM ME — HAD TO PROMISE IT WAS ALL TO BE ONLY A LOAN!
AND WERE YOU IN LOVE WITH HIM, TOO, MOTHER? CAN'T BLAME YOU IF YOU WERE—HE'S SIMPLY A PRECIOUS OLD MAN!
OH, I GUESS I WAS, DAUGHTER, TILL YOUR FATHER CAME ALONG AND SWEPT ME OFF MY FEET!

STOCK MARKET RUNNING OUT OF CLIMBING STEAM

But Boardroom Sentiment Stays Bullish After Rise To January Level.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK — The stock market appeared to have run out of rising steam today after two consecutive million-share sessions and a jump to the highest levels since last January.

While boardroom sentiment still leaned to the bullish side, due partly to continuance of inflation talk, optimistic business hopes and a better brand of war news, brokers felt that cashing profits on the speediest upturn since last November may not yet have been completed.

Among items gratifying to market recovery forces was the Dun & Bradstreet survey disclosing another sharp upswing over 1940 in the country's bank clearings. For the week ended Wednesday it was estimated the aggregate exceeded the comparable period a year ago by 33.9 per cent. Best year-to-year increases were shown by Detroit, St. Louis, Louisville and Philadelphia.

Encouragement also was derived from the summary of the Engineering News-Record placing heavy construction awards this week at $298,718,000, a new record.

Don't Tell Me You're Going Shopping Today!

"Don't tell me you're going shopping today, Sue! You'll be worn out in this heat!"

"Not me! I'm buying everything on my list at Montgomery Ward!"

"Why, I didn't know Wards carried all those things!"

"Yes, if I don't see what I want in the store, Doris, I just pick it out in Wards catalogs!"

"You mean you can buy things in Wards catalogs there at the store!"

"Yes, in the catalog order department! They rush things from the warehouse! You really SAVE!"
